RAF BLASTS PARIS AIRFIELDS, FACTORIES; HUGE RENAULT ARMS WORKS HAMMERED

16 Out of 18 Heavy Bombers Attacking U. S. Fleet Downed

Six Jap Planes Bagged by One Doughty Flyer

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.
WASHINGTON, March 3. A thrilling account of an attack by 18 Japanese heavy bombers on a United States aircraft carrier and other warships in which 16 of the enemy planes were shot down—six by a single doughty fighting plane pilot from the carrier—was told by the Navy tonight.

A lieutenant junior grade, Edward H. O'Hare, of St. Louis, was the hero who took the heavy toll. The other 10 bombers were accounted for by other fighting planes from the carrier, two of which were lost, and by anti-aircraft fire from the warships. The carrier itself and the other ships—cruisers and destroyers—suffered not a scratch.

The brilliant action occurred "in the course of recent naval operations west of the Gilbert islands," a Navy communique related. The carrier and an undisclosed number of cruisers and destroyers of the Pacific fleet were operating as a task force at the time.

Main Route.
The location lies along the main supply route from the United States to New Zealand and Australia. Whether the task force was conveying transports to the western Pacific fighting theater or whether it was a force which participated in the foray on the Gilbert and Marshall islands January 31, when Japanese land bases and 16 enemy ships were destroyed, was not disclosed.

The fleet units which raided the Marshall and Gilbert islands presumably operated out of Pearl Harbor, 2,000 miles away to the northeast. The fact that the action reported tonight took place west of the Gilberts—on the Australian instead of the Hawaiian side—appeared to indicate that the ships were on a different mission.

The Gilbert islands, mandated to Great Britain but seized by the Japanese, are approximately midway between Pearl Harbor and Australia and southeast of the Japanese-mandated Caroline islands. The attacking bombers may have operated from bases in the Carolines.

Adroit dodging by the aircraft carrier helped to baffle the attacking Japanese bombers, which operated in two waves of nine each. "Only three enemy planes of the first formation reached their bomb release point over the aircraft carrier, which avoided all bomb hits by split-second maneuvering," the Navy related.

Crash Landing.
"The leading bomber of this group attempted a crash landing on the carrier and was shot down by heavy close-range anti-aircraft fire when barely 100 yards from its objective."

In the second attack, the Navy continued, only five enemy bombers reached the bomb release point. In the two attacks two American fighter planes were lost. The pilot of one was recovered.

The communique said that despite the severity of the Japanese attack there was no damage to the American surface forces.

The attacks, the Navy continued, occurred late in the afternoon and were timed about one-half hour apart.

Lieutenant O'Hare was born in St. Louis March 13, 1914, and attended Western Military Academy

Atlantan Named In Auto Parts Theft Count

Hector Russell Weill, operator of the Russell Weill Distributing Company, 236 Piedmont avenue, was arrested yesterday on a Detroit, Mich., federal court indictment alleging part in a nation-wide conspiracy involving theft of an estimated $10,000,000 of automobile parts from the Ford Motor Company.

Weill, posting $1,000 bail with the United States commissioner here for preliminary hearing Friday, insisted all he had done was to purchase parts from a New York concern, the Jack Glyder Company, which he believed to be a legitimate parts distributor.

Francis Hammack, agent in charge of the Atlanta FBI office, said Weill and the other 64 defendants were indicted on a charge of conspiracy to violate the national stolen property act in that he and others transported or caused to be transported in interstate commerce from Michigan to Atlanta property stolen from the Ford Motor Company including ignition points, bearings, windshield wipers, shock absorbers, bolts, etc.

The specific charge involved an alleged purchase of $3,600 of various parts last November 15. It was asserted Weill sent this amount to an employee of the New York company, Charles Shapiro, for the purchases.

"I dealt with the Glyder company for a year," declared Weill, "and have a complete record of my invoices. I came in contact with them at a regular dealer's convention. I supposed them to be all right. I've been in business here in Atlanta for 20 years."

Double Income Tax Payments Seen for 1943

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.
WASHINGTON, March 3.—The Treasury asked today that the income tax payments of most citizens be doubled next year as part of a steep general tax increase designed to raise $9,610,000,000.

"War is never cheap," said Secretary Morgenthau, presenting the program to the House Ways and Means Committee, "but... it is a million times cheaper to win than to lose."

The "new taxes," he said, would "be severe" and their impact "felt in every home." They contemplated extensive increases not only in individual income tax payments, but in corporation income levies, together with new or higher excise taxes on a list of 15 such items as soda pop, candy and cigarettes; and increased levies on estates and gifts. Also included was a $2,000,000,000 increase in social security taxes, details of which will be disclosed later.

Seven Weeks' Pay.
The new rates on individual incomes, as proposed by the Treasury chief, would be so severe that a single man earning $2,500 a year would turn more than seven weeks' pay over to the government. His payment would be $345, as compared with $165, or about three and one-half weeks' pay, under the present rates.

The tax bill of a married man without children would be raised from $90 to $175 if his salary is $2,500; from $138 to $285 if he earns $3,000; from $249 to $535 on $4,000 and from $375 to $805 on $5,000.

60 Per Cent Raise.
The average increase was reckoned at 60 per cent by the Treasury. However, it starts at more than 100 per cent in the low brackets. The rate of increase grows less on the higher incomes, of which the government is already taking a larger percentage than is paid by the "little fellow."

While the married individual with two dependents would pay $32 instead of $12 on a $2,500 income, the rate of increase would be 267 per cent.

"I can see no reason for not having this festival, as it is a local affair and will not in any way interfere with our national defense program or our transportation facilities," Chief Hornsby declared. "The festival has been a success in previous years and I feel it will be a great factor in increasing the morale of the citizens of Atlanta."

"I think the more nearly we keep up the regular customs of the community the better will be the morale of our city during these critical times," Jere Wells asserted, promising full co-operation of the county school system in the festival.

American Cruiser Sunk, Tokyo Says

TOKYO.—(From Japanese Broadcast)—March 3.—(P)—The United States cruiser Houston was listed today among 23 United Nations warships claimed sunk by the Japanese in weekend naval clashes off Java.

Imperial headquarters said another United States ship, the 9,050-ton Houston class, reported sunk earlier in the Java sea, has now been identified as the Augusta.

Against these losses, a naval headquarters spokesman said the sole damage to Japanese warships was one destroyer slightly damaged.

(The Japanese figures, out of all reasonable proportion, were in sharp contrast to official Dutch announcements of 27 enemy warships and transports sunk or heavily damaged. The Dutch acknowledged loss of two cruisers and two destroyers.)

Casualties Reported Among Civilians in Heavy 2-Hour Raid

VICHY, Unoccupied France, March 3.—British planes bombed airdromes and factories in suburban Paris for two hours tonight and there were "victims among the civilian population," a terse communique said.

Authorities would not permit the naming of the suburbs bombed or the extent of the damage. The first bombs were said to have started falling at 10 p. m. Paris time.

(According to International News Service, the RAF carried out heavy raids, dropping bombs on the Paris area as well as on the industrial suburbs of Neuilly, Boulogne and Billancourt, reports reaching Vichy were quoted.

E.L. Philpot, 50, Is Found Shot To Death Here

Less than a week after the death of his father, the body of E. L. Philpot, 50, assistant secretary and treasurer of the W. R. C. Smith Publishing Company, was found last night under the portico of the Druid Hills Golf Club, with a small caliber shotgun clutched between his legs.

Philpot, Radio Patrolmen T. M. Stribling and L. F. Preston were told, had been very despondent since the death of his father, George A. Philpot, last Saturday. Residing at 929 Clifton road, only a short distance from the clubhouse, the body of Philpot with the ranch government at Vichy for the first time, the German radio said today. Count Vittorio Zoffi will be the first Italian representative in Vichy, working through the Italian embassy in German-occupied Paris.

Philpot, police were told, had just driven into the clubhouse grounds a moment before the gun was discharged.

The body was taken to the undertaking parlors of A. S. Turner & Sons, in Decatur, where Coroner Paul Estes, of DeKalb county, will hold an inquest at 10 o'clock this morning.

ITALY RECOGNIZES VICHY.
BERLIN (From German Broadcasts). March 3.—(P)—Italy has established diplomatic relations with the French government at Vichy for the first time, the German radio said today. Count Vittorio Zoffi will be the first Italian representative in Vichy, working through the Italian embassy in German-occupied Paris.

(Among the better-known establishments are the Citroen, Hispano-Suiza, Potez, Renault and Regnier Motor Works. Other industries converted by the Nazis to their own purposes include railway shops, metal, chemical, leather and food factories.

(Paris is only about 150 air-line miles from the closest point of the British coast—within easy bombing range. The British are believed to have refrained from attacks on the city heretofore because of possible repercussions among the French people. Whether the British now have abandoned that policy was a matter of speculation.)

RAF Attacked Renault—London
LONDON, Wednesday, March 4. (P)—The RAF raided the Renault works at Billancourt, southwest of Paris, last night, it was announced authoritatively today. The announcement added that the Renault works "have become the outstanding symbol of collaboration with Germany."

The Renault works is a large establishment on the bend of the Seine on the outskirts of Paris. The announcement said: "Renault is a household word in France and the Renault works have become the outstanding symbol of collaboration with Germany. The company is known to have been engaged in the making and repairing of transport vehicles, tanks and air engines for Germany."

Two months ago a British air officer, whose name was not disclosed, broadcast a warning to French workers in occupied territory that Britain intended to bomb industrial areas known to be working under pressure for the Germans.

The Ministry of Economic Warfare reported recently that the Renault works with thousands of workers and other big plants in the French capital's industrial belt were working 24 hours a day to supply the German Army.

Strong Counterblow Hurls Japs Back in Java

Allied Defense Of Burma Is Holding Firm

LONDON, March 3.—(P)—The British defense of Burma still held firmly along the Sittang river line today, with motor patrols briskly cleaning up small Japanese infiltration units which managed to reach the river's west bank.

In reporting this situation, a communique from the menaced metropolis of Rangoon told of successful RAF attacks on Japanese troop and transport concentrations and said that increasing numbers of Indians were returning to Rangoon and reopening their shops. The city had been virtually deserted except for the military.

General Sir Archibald P. Wavell, newly relieved of the United Nations command in Java to return to his old post as commander-in-chief for India, with Burma as an added responsibility, visited the forces in Burma and then went on to India.

Wavell has not yet taken over formal command, it was announced from New Delhi, but he is expected to do so quickly.

Dispatches from the front north of Pegu, Burma, predicted that he would have at least a week's time before the Japanese could reorganize in strength for a renewed attack westward.

A likely zone of this drive was believed to be between Pegu and Pymnana, a 200-mile stretch in which several co-ordinated and successive thrusts might be made.

Homes Project At Air Base To Cost $280,000

Forty duplex houses will be built immediately near the Naval Reserve Air Base here at a cost of about $280,000 to accommodate the permanent operating personnel of the Air Base.

A defense housing project, bids for the building group will be opened March 12 by members of the Decatur Housing Authority headed by W. F. Tabor, executive director, and construction is to be started 10 days later. It will occupy about 15 acres at Peachtree and Clairmont roads.

Each unit will house a family, and it was estimated by Tabor yesterday the entire project would care for 320 persons.

Construction is to be one-story frame with concrete slab foundations.

Funds will be supplied by the Federal Works Agency under the Lanham act. The Federal Housing Authority, FWA agency, named the Decatur authority as its representative.

Plans for the structures, prepared by Sayward & Logan, architects, include an administration building.

Annual Music Show Indorsed by Leaders

By FRANK DRAKE.
Enthusiastic indorsement of the fourth annual Greater Atlanta Music Festival, sponsored by The Constitution, came yesterday from prominent civic officials as preparations for the big spring event continued in the school systems of the entire Atlanta area.

The festival will be held Saturday night, May 9, at Grant field, and many new and exciting features are being planned for the thousands of boys and girls who will participate. The show will be free to the public.

Brigadier General E. G. Peyton, head of Atlanta's civilian defense program; Mayor LeCraw, Police Chief M. A. Hornsby; Dr. Willis A. Sutton, city school superintendent; Jere A. Wells, Fulton county school superintendent; Miss Anne Grace O'Callaghan, city high school music supervisor, and Mrs. Dan Plaster, president of the Fulton County P. T. A. council, were among those giving approval to staging the festival this year.

"At no time in our nation's history has there been greater need to awaken all our citizens to an appreciation of our country and American institutions," Mayor LeCraw wrote Clark Howell, editor and publisher of The Constitution in commenting on the patriotic theme of the festival. "I wish to commend you for your effort and to commend the event to our community."

"There has been some apprehension as to whether or not the gathering of so large a crowd of performers and spectators would be advisable," General Peyton asserted in giving his approval. "If conditions become more acute, there might be some reason for such a feeling but unless they do, I believe the program will be very worth while and stimulating."

Trial Judge Bars Viereck's Main Defense Attorney

WASHINGTON, March 3.—(AP)—Defense Attorney Emil Morosini today was barred from further participation in the trial of George Sylvester Viereck, German-born publicist, after he openly charged Federal District Court Justice F. Dickinson Letts with being "biased" in favor of the government and "prejudiced" against the defendant.

Bomb Training Urged by Peyton

Atlantians were urged to learn simple and effective methods in handling incendiary bombs in an appeal issued yesterday by Brigadier General E. G. Peyton, in command of local defense.

In a general order, Peyton complimented citizens on the success of the first trial blackout, adding "we must intensify instructions and maintain concealment to the end that every man, woman and child be instructed in the simple and effective methods of disposing of incendiary bombs."

(An instruction on air-raid defense will be held at 8 o'clock to night in the Holy Comforter church, Atlanta and Pulliam streets.)

The general announcement concerning bomb training came as Councilman John A. White said he will ask council to provide funds to purchase an adequate and uniform air-raid alarm system. White stressed it should be installed for the entire metropolitan area. He estimated cost for the district probably will be about $18,000, but that it is necessary for the safety of citizens and the protection of property.

The government had presented evidence last week showing that Viereck had collaborated in the writing of non-interventionist speeches, arranged for their delivery in congress and for reprints of them to be mailed out in large quantities under congressional frank.

Earlier, cross-examination of a defense witness had brought out that Viereck wrote the editor of Liberty magazine in November, 1937, that Representative Fish, Republican, New York, would be "very glad" to collaborate in an article with Viereck on the "necessity of a war referendum."

The witness, Sheppard Butler, now executive editor of Liberty, was called by the defense to show that Viereck had been a regular contributor to the magazine from 1925 until two or three years ago. Butler testified Viereck also edited and prepared articles which appeared under other names, one being a series in the nature of an expose of Communism.

City and State Back to Normal After Big Snow

Communications Restored as Milder Weather Makes Return.

Although rooftops, vacant lots and some residential streets of Atlanta were still snow-clad last night, warming temperatures dispelled the expected aftermath of dangerous icy thoroughfares.

We feel the snowstorm's all over," said Glen Jefferson, weather forecaster. He predicted a light freeze for last night and warmer weather today.

Transportation and communication services seriously threatened in Atlanta and north Georgia during the seven-inch snowfall of Monday were quickly restored yesterday. The Georgia Power Company reported that breaks in two of its high tension lines between Atlanta and Tallulah had been mended and service on one of the lines restored.

Another break in one of the lines, between Gainesville and Cornelia, was being repaired, and a line which snapped six miles from Rome also was being repaired. In snapping under the weight of the heavy snow, this line fell across railway signal wires causing train dispatchers in Atlanta to resort to roundabout communications to keep trains running.

Hydrants Aid Cleanup.

The milder weather in Atlanta yesterday aided the city sanitary department in clearing downtown streets. No extra help was required. The department's men merely opened fire hydrants, with the result that most of the snow washed down into the sewers.

Schedules of buses, trackless trolleys and street cars returned to normal yesterday morning. The power company maintained services during the storm, but the snow caused some delays. There were no accidents, according to an official.

Delta and Eastern Air Lines, which grounded their planes Monday, resumed regular schedules yesterday morning. Greyhound bus officials reported that roads to Chattanooga, Birmingham and the Carolinas, which were blocked the previous day, were all open and that buses were running as usual. Trucks and private cars stalled along these roads caused the company to suspend bus service on those lines Monday.

Few Train Delays.

Yesterday flurries of snow were the tail end of the storm, according to Forecaster Jefferson.

There were no serious delays in train services because of the storm, according to the superintendent at the Atlanta terminal, although some trains ran an hour or so late because a few signal wires were down.

The State Highway Patrol reported its communications with some of its units still unsatisfactory.

KIDNEYS MUST REMOVE EXCESS ACIDS

Help 15 Miles of Kidney Tubes Flush Out Poisonous Waste

If you have an excess of acids in your blood, your 15 miles of kidney tubes may be overworked. These tiny filters and tubes are working hard to help rid your system of excess acids and poisonous waste. When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backache, rheumatism, leg pain, loss of pep and energy, getting up at night, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passage with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Kidneys may need help the same as bowels, so ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

Milledgeville Dog, City Pet, Poisoned

MILLEDGEVILLE, Ga., March 3.—Skipper, one of Milledgeville's most familiar figures, is dead.

Skipper, huge German police dog owned by Mrs. Russell Bone, was a friend of every man—white and colored. Self-appointed mascot of the night police force, he was a constant companion of the officers. He died of poisoning.

Many valuable pets have been killed here during the last two weeks by poisoning and the entire town is "up in arms" about the situation.

Other victims included two dogs owned by Captain J. H. Ennis, veteran Baldwin legislator.

by both radio and telephone.

The amount of snow on the ground in Atlanta was estimated at between three and four inches. Had all of it stuck, it would have been seven inches deep, according to the weather bureau.

Melting snow was expected to add to the water in reservoirs and maintain hydroelectric energy, so much needed by defense industries, at a high level.

Phone Service Normal.

District Manager R. N. Pfaff, of the Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph Company, reported telephone service "about back to normal" in the city. He said on Monday subscribers attempted to place more long distance calls than on any day in history and made so many local calls that at times telephone equipment was overloaded.

Repair crews, he added, made considerable progress yesterday in putting storm-damaged lines outside the city back into service. First attention was given to points where service had been completely cut off. He said lines to some points were still out of service late yesterday.

The record number of long distance calls originating here Monday amounted to 10,906 as against a previous all-time record of 10,164 in a single day, the company announced. Many of the calls, it was said, were for the purpose of cancelling scheduled trips on account of the weather.

County School Superintendent Jere A. Wells announced yesterday that county schools would resume sessions as usual today.

Attendance at Atlanta schools was only about 50 per cent of normal yesterday. Marvin L. Coleman, assistant superintendent, said. Normal attendance is expected today, he added.

Clarke Donaldson, chief of the city construction department, which aided the sanitary department in cleaning the streets, said no damage to sewer lines had yet been found. H. J. Cates, of the sanitary department, announced the incinerator, which closed for a time yesterday because of lack of garbage, was back in operation.

Jasper reported Monday's heavy snowfall the second within a week. A six-inch fall was recorded there Monday, February 23. Flowery Branch had a six-inch snow Monday afternoon. Hershamsboro county also was reported covered with a six-inch blanket.

Jap Diplomats Not Wanted by Augusta Area

Telegrams Are Sent Protesting 'Contemplated' Transfer to Georgia.

AUGUSTA, Ga., March 3.—(AP) Telegrams protesting the "contemplated" transfer of Japanese diplomats, now interned at White Sulphur Springs, Va., to the Augusta area, were sent today to Georgia congressional representatives and Breckenridge Long, assistant secretary of state.

Separate telegrams were dispatched by the Augusta Chamber of Commerce, the civilian defense committee and Mayor J. M. Woodall, after a meeting in the Chamber of Commerce building.

None of those attending the meeting gave any information on rumored plans to transfer the Japanese embassy to a hotel or to any location in Augusta or to any immediate contiguous territory."

The message cited the fact that Augusta is a defense center and added: "It is unthinkable as well as detrimental to our country's welfare and we earnestly request that the thought of such action be summarily dismissed."

War Expenditures Reach New High

WASHINGTON, March 3.—(AP) War spending reached a new peak of $2,201,081,089 in February.

The Treasury, supplying this figure today, said that although the month had three fewer days, its spending record was $100,000,000 more than January's. Also the amount was nearly four times the rate of February, 1941.

February costs brought defense-war spending for the first eight months of the fiscal year to $12,516,021,882. The government will have to spend nearly that much more in the remaining four months of the year to meet President Roosevelt's budget estimate of $23,998,525,400.

The federal debt at the end of January was at a new high of $62,380,505,166, representing an increase of approximately $2,370,000,000 in the last month.

Japs Landed In Vital Port On Philippines

Enemy Navy Is Reported Shelling Several Coastal Towns.

WASHINGTON, March 3.—(AP) A renewal of Japanese attacks in an apparent attempt to extend control over southern and central islands of the Philippines was reported today by the War Department, with particular emphasis on the landing of enemy troops at Zamboanga.

This important port on the southwest tip of Mindanao was in flames, a department communique said, and troops were being landed from four transports, which were escorted by a cruiser. These transports may have carried a total of 4,000 soldiers.

At the same time, ships of the Japanese navy were reported to be shelling several coastal towns on Cebu and Negros islands, north of Mindanao. Apparently no effort was made to put troops ashore at these points, but the Army said a cruiser and destroyers participated in the attacks on Cebu City and Argao on Cebu; Misos, Tolo, Dumaguete and Maricao Bong on Negros, and Bugo on Mindanao.

Held Davao.

The Japanese already held Davao, principal port of Mindanao and former United States naval base. Davao is the center of a large Japanese civilian population.

The move against Zamboanga, informed persons said, may have been undertaken to forestall any attempt by the United States to use it for supplying arms to the Moro tribesmen of the interior of Mindanao who have been organizing for resistance to the Japanese. There also were suggestions that the enemy might intend to use Zamboanga as an additional base for naval operations.

A city of 50,000 population, Zamboanga has excellent port facilities and before the war was an important port shipping center for copra and abaca.

Smaller Ports.

The shelling of the smaller ports, several of which could not be located even on the War Department's latest maps of the Philippines, may have been part of a Japanese attempt to destroy interisland shipping and communications, officials said.

They recalled that the Japanese as yet have not occupied any of the central islands of the Archipelago except Masbate, off the southern tip of Luzon, but have confined their landings in force to Mindanao, of which they hold actually only a small portion, and Luzon which they control in large part.

War Work Needs Skilled Laborers

The Civil Service Commission and the U. S. Employment Service "are looking continually for skilled workers for placement in defense jobs," O. E. Myers, district manager of the Atlanta civil service office, said yesterday.

"Any employee displaced by material shortages, or any other persons having the necessary skills and available to accept a defense job may obtain full information regarding such opportunities and full consideration for actual placement" by calling on his office in the New Post Office building or the employment service office, Myers said.

A complete analysis of the skilled labor to be made available by the layoffs at the Ford and Chevrolet plants was made before the layoffs occurred and a considerable number of displaced workers already have been placed in actual defense jobs, Myers said.

Makers of Dog Food Will Pack Products 'Dry'

Package Problem Solved, Ration To Appear in Dehydrated Form.

OTTUMWA, Iowa, March 3.—(AP)—John Morrell & Company, which claims to be the largest American packer of dog food, announced today it has solved the packaging problem and soon will produce its prepared dog ration in dehydrated form.

The War Production Board banned further canning of dog food to save metal and canning halted here last week.

The new food will require addition of water. The company packs Red Heart dog food.

President T. Henry Foster said newspapers will form the backbone of a substantial campaign to promote the dehydrated food.

Divorce Granted Here Is Revoked

Acting favorably on a petition filed by Assistant Solicitor General C. E. Presley, divorce racket investigator, Judge Walter C. Hendrix, of Fulton superior court yesterday set aside a divorce obtained last January by Mrs. Frances Barnes Eakin from William Forrest Eakin.

Attorneys for Mrs. Eakin consented to the ruling. In Presley's petition, he alleged that Mrs.

Eakin had not been a resident of Georgia for 12 months prior to the filing of her suit and that she failed to furnish the clerk of courts with a citation to be mailed to the defendant at his last known address.

Manufacturers To Stop Making Trousers With Cuffs March 30

WASHINGTON, March 3.—(AP) American men are going to be tailored to the times in "Victory suits."

No longer will the well-dressed man have cuffs to keep his trousers from whipping about his ankles. Neither will he have comfortable pleats, sporty patch pockets, nor a vest with his double-breasted suit.

These are out for the duration, effective for manufacturers as of March 30, the War Production Board announced today. At the same time, the board said it had been promised the wholehearted co-operation of the clothing industry in fitting out American men in view of war needs.

The order, issued to conserve upwards of 40,000,000 pounds of wool, hits the white tie-and-tails trade especially hard. The full dress coat, the cutaway and the double-breasted tuxedo won't be manufactured after the deadline, leaving only the single-breasted tuxedo for night-clubbing purposes.

Board officials said every branch of the clothing industry, from fabric makers to clothing retailers, had given guarantees that all provisions of the order would be observed. This included, they said, spokesmen for merchant tailors and tailors-to-the-trade, for whom the manufacturing restrictions do not apply until May 30, in order to let them use up wools already cut.

The order covers boys' as well as men's suits, and the total savings are expected to permit the manufacture of 26 per cent more suits in 1942 than otherwise would be possible, and 10 per cent more overcoats.

"This program will get the country through 1942 without any clothing difficulties," a WPB spokesman said.

Suit coats will be three-quarters of an inch shorter, a return to the mode of a few years ago. Fancy back coats were ruled out, eliminating pleats, vents, belts and bellows. The width of trousers at knee and bottom is restricted to 22 and 18-1/2 inches respectively, which are the present normal measurements. Suits will have only one pair of trousers.

"Continuous" (overlapping) waistbands on trousers were prohibited, along with woolen trouser belts.

Both single and double-breasted overcoats will be two to four inches shorter than at present. This, WPB said, "continues the style trend already under way."

The "sweep" (width at the bottom) of overcoats also is curtailed slightly.

Atlantans Will See Victory Suits in Fall

Victory suits may not be expected to make an appearance in Atlanta until next fall, local stores' furnishing stores said last night. Most of the new spring merchandise is in and production of the frill-less men's wear will not get under way until time for the fall market, they anticipate.

Jacob Jones U. S. Destroyer Used by Tech Sunk Off Coast R. O. T. C. in '36 Of New Jersey

Sunken Destroyer Served as Flagship for Destroyer.

Many former R. O. T. C. students of Georgia Tech, including football stars, will remember the destroyer Jacob Jones, sunk by an enemy submarine off the coast of New Jersey, as the flagship of a destroyer squadron in which they made a training cruise in 1936.

Ralph McGill, executive editor of The Constitution, accompanied the Tech unit. He was aboard the Jacob Jones.

The Tech boys, manning the destroyers Dickerson and Schenck, were on a competitive cruise with R. O. T. C. units from Harvard, Yale and Northwestern.

The Jacob Jones joined the squadron out of New York and steamed with them down the Atlantic seaboard and through the Panama canal.

The flagship carried a full complement of officers and enlisted men and directed the maneuvers of the eight other ships which were manned by collegians.

More Than 100 Lives Are Lost in Sea Tragedy.

WASHINGTON, March 3.—(AP) The first United States warship ever torpedoed and sunk by an enemy submarine in home waters went down off Cape May, N. J., in the predawn darkness last Saturday after two hull-shattering explosions.

The vessel was the old World War destroyer Jacob Jones, and of her crew, which may have totaled as many as 145 officers and men, all were killed except nine workers in the engine rooms and two apprentice seamen.

Loss of the 1,200-ton ship, ninth naval craft of the war officially announced as destroyed by enemy action, was revealed by the Navy Department today in a communication which tersely explained the main points of what was known of the attack.

"Prior to receiving the first torpedo hit, the enemy sub was not sighted nor was the torpedo. The first torpedo blew up the bow and apparently killed all the personnel on the bridge as well as the men sleeping in the forward compartments.

"The second torpedo, which was fired after the submarine circled ahead of the Jacob Jones, blew up the stern and all the depth charges."

The initial blast, it was surmised here, cost the lives of the captain, Lieutenant Commander Hugh David Black, of Oradell, N. J., and of most if not all the other officers, whom the Navy did not identify. The second undoubtedly blew the entire afterpart of the ship to pieces so that the wreck quickly went under.

The exact number of casualties was not announced nor was the total of those on board when the attack started given out. But since the normal complement of the ship was at least 125 and usually 145 officers and men, there was no question that many more than 100 had lost their lives—making this the most costly single ship loss reported in the war so far except for the toll taken by the Japanese raiders at Pearl Harbor.

The Jacob Jones, named for a hero of the War of 1812 and the campaign against the Barbary pirates, was traveling in dangerous waters even though close to shore when she cruised along the Jersey coast early Saturday.

Only a day before she was attacked, the tanker R. P. Resor was torpedoed and sunk in flames off Jersey. Along the whole length of the United States coast, 26 merchant ships and tankers have been officially announced as sunk since Germany's U-boat operations started around January 12.

Submarines were active in Atlantic coastal waters during the first World War but apparently in such concentrations as the Nazis have mustered for the present drive.

During the summer of 1918 they sank or damaged upwards of 200,000 tons of merchant shipping and tankers, and a warship, the cruiser San Diego, was sunk by a mine believed to have been laid by a U-boat. But no American warship was torpedoed in these coastal operations.

Donates $80,000 To Build Planes

LONDON, March 3.—(AP)—American-born Lady MacRobert, wife of a Scottish peer, who gave $100,000 for the purchase of a Sterling bomber last August, gave another $80,000 today for four fighters, two of them to be named after two sons lost in the RAF. A third plane will be named after another son and the fourth "MacRobert's Salute to Russia," which, she explained, was to let the Russians know "that we are with them to the very end."

The Sterling bomber already bears the name "MacRobert's Reply." The air ministry announced today that it went into action last September and has participated in raids on Stettin, Nurnburg, Hamburg, Bremen, Wilhelmshaven, Cologne, Munster and Brest. It was damaged on some of its trips but kept going.

Vinson To Ask Completion of Baldwin Dam

Move Favored Before U. S. Erects Aluminum Plant.

By GLADSTONE WILLIAMS, Constitution Staff Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, March 3.—Representative Carl Vinson said today he was urging the Georgia Power Company to complete construction of the Furman Shoals dam on the Oconee river in Baldwin county preliminary to having the government erect a great aluminum plant in the section.

The dam was abandoned by the power company several years ago after being about half finished. Completion of the project would result in an added source of some 35,000 kilowatts of electric power, it was said.

If the dam is completed, Representative Vinson, chairman of the House Naval Affairs Committee, declared he would undertake to have the government authorize the aluminum plant and other industries essential to the war. He said sufficient quantities of kaolin and bauxite, two elements going into aluminum production, are found in the region adjacent to the Furman Shoals dam.

"But the most important elements of aluminum production is electric power," Vinson declared. "We must complete the dam for added power production before we can get the aluminum plant. I am urging this course on the proper officials."

Surprise Expressed On News of Plant

The possibility of an aluminum plant in Baldwin county, near the proposed Georgia Power Company's Furman Shoals hydroelectric plant, came as a complete surprise yesterday to power company officials, C. A. Collier, vice president of the company, said.

"Our consideration of the Furman Shoals development was before we had heard about the possibility of an aluminum plant in Baldwin county," Collier said. "Our consideration was entirely toward supplying already anticipated needs. We are not yet sufficiently informed about the aluminum plant to attempt to discuss it."

Power company officials tomorrow will take the preliminary steps toward construction of the partly-completed Furman Shoals plant, when they file a declaration of intention with the Federal Power Commission in Washington, asking the agency whether a federal license will be required before work on the 60,000-horsepower development could proceed.

Guard Air Force in Georgia, Civil Air Patrol Consolidated

The Civil Air Patrol and the Air Force of the Georgia State Guard have been merged following recommendation of Army and Navy officers and leaders in both organizations. Wing Commander Winship Nunnally, of the CAP, announced yesterday.

The consolidation, which shifted approximately 200 pilots into squadrons of the Civil Air Patrol, was announced after a meeting attended by Colonel Harry H. Blee, of the Washington office, CAP, Captain George Noland, CAP regional commander; Colonel Lindley Camp, commander of the Georgia State Guard; Lieutenant-Colonel R. W. Ferguson, of St. Simon's Island, commander of the State Guard Air Force, and Wing Commander Nunnally.

"All recommended the action to 'Colonel Camp,' the state CAP head said in making the announcement," and he agreed fully in the plan to make the work more efficient.

"Colonel Camp deserves much praise for his full co-operation and for the splendid organization which he has built up. The Georgia State Guard is recognized as the finest in the United States. It was one of the few with an air force."

Merger of the two organizations, Nunnally pointed out, will avoid duplication of personnel and additional work of pilots belonging to both organizations.

Colonel Ferguson will remain in command of the coastal area as Group Commander of the CAP. Colonel Ferguson also will take command of the boat patrols of the State Guard on the coast, it is understood.

Other group commanders are Major Lion Mason, of Atlanta, who has charge of north Georgia, and Major William J. Graham, of Americus, head of the south Georgia area, which does not include the coast.

Two Australian Towns Raided By Jap Planes

Attacks Emphasize Invasion Threat as Commonwealth Prepares.

MELBOURNE, Australia, March 3.—(AP)—Japanese planes attacked airdromes and grounded planes at Wyndham and Broome in continental western Australia today, causing some damage and emphasizing the invasion threat against which this commonwealth is hastening its defenses.

Another flight of 15 bombers and at least three fighters raided Port Moresby, on the island of New Guinea, for the third day in a week. Only minor damage was reported, however. Port Moresby's anti-aircraft guns were credited with keeping the bombers at high altitudes.

Wyndham, 300 miles southwest of Darwin, the only mainland port previously raided, was subjected only to machinegun and cannon fire. Bombs were dropped at Broome, 700 miles southwest of Darwin.

It was believed probable that the raiders of both places came from Timor, Japanese-occupied island some 500 miles to the north. A dispatch from Port Moresby said a Japanese pilot who was shot down there Sunday was a naval aviator, apparently from a base at Rabaul, New Britain, and that his zero-type fighter plane obviously possessed greater range and speed than had been suspected. No figures were given, however.

The Australian government proceeded with its program for compulsory civilian service at army pay, unification of army and militia forces, blackout procedure and property mobilization.

Housewives experimented with parched wheat as a substitute for tea, which has been taken over by the government, and butchers brought out sausages in sheep casings because American pork casings soon will be unobtainable.

Bagful of Diamonds Found To Be Cut Glass

LOS ANGELES, March 3.—(AP) A stranger approached Mrs. Flora Weiss, asked directions and remarked he had a bagful of diamonds he'd like to sell. As she looked at his offerings, up walked two more men.

"I'd rather buy the one on the lady's finger," said one.

Mrs. Weiss told police the trio took her ring to be appraised and neglected to return.

A jeweler appraised the "bagful of diamonds" left as security, as cut glass. Her ring cost $1,200.

January Sales For Southeast Set New High

Seasonal Trade Decline Smaller Than Usual, Report Reveals.

Department store sales in the six southeastern states covered by the Atlanta Federal Reserve Bank reached a record all-time high for the month of January, a report made public yesterday by the bank reveals.

The report also reveals moderate to large increases in construction awards, wholesale trading, life insurance sales, and cotton textile activity.

The seasonal decline for trade during January, the report said, was much smaller than usual, but early February reports indicate a small slackening-off over the January business. The February business, which covers only the first two weeks, indicated that February is about 2 per cent below the January volume.

Increases Reported. The January sales, the survey reveals, are 8 per cent above January, 1941.

Among the reporting cities, Birmingham and Jackson, Miss., had increases during January as compared with the same month last year of more than 50 per cent. Chattanooga and Knoxville, of more than 40 per cent; Macon, Montgomery and New Orleans of more than 30 per cent while Atlanta, Baton Rouge, Jacksonville, Nashville and Tampa of more than 20 per cent.

Wholesale trade in the district recorded a slight increase in January, when there usually is a decline, and was 29 per cent greater than a year previous.

Also were reported these facts: Life insurance sales increased in January over December by 8 per cent and over January, 1941, by 89 per cent.

Figures on Textiles. Cotton used by textile mills in Georgia, Alabama and Tennessee averaged 12,331 bales for each of the 26 working days in January. This brought mill activity to a new high, representing an increase of 8 per cent over December and 12 per cent over January, 1941.

Steel mill activity in the Birmingham-Gadsden area was at 95.5 per cent of capacity in January and the first week of February, increasing to 99 per cent since then.

Reporting on final figures for 1941, the Review said cash farm income in the district amounted to $1,063,249,000, an increase of 33 per cent over 1940 and the highest since 1925.

The year's construction contracts totaled $737,000,000, the highest on record.

Blackout Edict Is Clarified by Defense Chief

Murchison's Telegram Explains Suggestions of February 28.

A suggestion for blackout preparations by the regional Office of Civilian Defense, was not intended as an order for a continuing partial blackout, Charles H. Murchison, regional director, said yesterday.

Local defense councils were advised to take necessary steps for blacking out "all advertising signs, store window or other uncontrolled lighting which cannot be eliminated at once in the event of an alert."

Murchison said he sent the following clarifying telegram to eight southeastern state defense councils yesterday:

"It was not the intent of that telegram (February 28) to order a blackout, but to suggest appropriate measures to be taken to execute such blackout orders as may hereafter be given. Proper preparation requires ability to extinguish lights referred to in telegram."

"Blackouts can only be ordered by the appropriate interceptor command governing your territory. Our responsibility here is through co-ordination of state and local defense councils to see that the critical areas are prepared to execute proper orders when issued by such interceptor commands. It therefore becomes necessary to control all unessential lighting so that the same may be turned off in a very short period of time when blackout orders are properly issued. Determination of how and when blackout orders are issued is the province of the interceptor command."

Scrap Iron Collection Is Planned in Schley

SPECIAL TO THE CONSTITUTION. ELLAVILLE, Ga., March 3.—"Scrap To Slap the Jap" will be collected on Saturday, March 7, in united tribute to General MacArthur, it was announced this week by T. G. Lindsey, chairman of the Schley County USDA War Board.

"It's estimated," Mr. Lindsey said, "that at least three billion pounds of scrap metal now lies idle on American farms, enough, if combined with other materials, to build 139 modern 35,000-ton battleships—more than all nations combined now possess."

Your Life Insurance in Wartime

IN TIME OF WAR, the security underlying your life insurance takes on a new meaning. More than ever before, security for the family is paramount.

While supporting that security, your life insurance dollars, invested in Government Bonds, are helping to buy planes, tanks, ships, guns, and all the other implements of war. Thus your life insurance dollars are helping to safeguard American lives and liberties.

At the end of 1941, Metropolitan had a total of $1,214,931,424.25 invested in United States Government Bonds... about 22% of the Company's assets. In addition, $104,982,562.49 was invested in Canadian Government Bonds.

In both the United States and Canada, life insurance dollars are helping to finance your defense housing, transportation facilities, the production of power, and the industries which are pouring out the steel, chemicals, oil, food, munitions, and other materials needed for the war. Each month more and more of your life insurance dollars are flowing from the channels of peace into investments that serve war uses and war industries.

Because of public appreciation of life insurance, increased efficiency of our agents, and the better national income during 1941, lapses and surrenders were at the lowest rate recorded in the Company's history.

In fulfilling its obligations to policyholders during 1941, Metropolitan paid or credited to policyholders and their beneficiaries more than $567,900,000. Of this amount, more than $383,700,000 was paid or credited to living policyholders.

Metropolitan is a mutual company. Its assets are held for the benefit of its policyholders and their beneficiaries. In the meantime, these assets are, as always in the past, being used to help meet national needs.

STATE OF NEW YORK.

COUNTY OF NEW YORK.

Personally appeared before me the undersigned, James H. Hiltner, who being duly sworn, deposes and says that he is the Vice President of The Carolina Insurance Company and that the foregoing statement is correct and true.

Sworn to and subscribed before me this 24th day of February, 1942.

ADOLPH G. KRUG, Notary Public, Queens County, N. Y.

After shooting up this town and scattering the German garrison which had been there three months, the parachutists then wrecked telephone and telegraph lines and railroad rolling stock.

All this, the dispatch added cryptically, was incidental to the parachutists' "main task" which it did not disclose.

Injecting a new note into its nightly communique, the Soviet information bureau said that during today's fighting Soviet troops went methodically about the task of "encircling and annihilating nests of resistance on several sectors of the front" and continued their advances.

In the past two days 3,400 Nazis have been killed on the Leningrad and Kalinin fronts, the official announcement said. Red airmen were credited with destroying 60 enemy planes yesterday, 8 of them in dogfights, compared to 11 Soviet losses.

Increased stirrings of spring in the south were accompanied today by mounting Red army assaults upon disorganized German forces wallowing in the thawing mud of the Ukraine.

16 Bombers Attacking U. S. Fleet Bagged

Before receiving an appointment to the Naval Academy from his native state in 1933. Upon graduation in 1937 he was assigned to the U. S. S. New Mexico.

In 1939 he had flight training at the naval air station, Pensacola, where he qualified as a naval aviator. He has been on duty with fighting squadrons, U. S. fleet since July, 1940.

Becomes Ace In Afternoon

WASHINGTON, March 3.—(AP)—By shooting down six Japanese bombers, Lieutenant Edward H. O'Hare became an ace in one exciting afternoon.

It was recalled tonight that during the first World War, when a man shot down five enemy planes he was unofficially given the title of ace.

O'Hare will be 28 years old next Friday, the 13th.

The bomber accounted for presumably were of the two-engine type, although it was pointed out that because of the smallness of the squadrons—there were two of nine planes each—it was possible they might have included some four-motor craft.

The two-motor bomber presumably would carry a crew of six to nine men, and a four-motor plane probably nine men or more.

O'Hare's feat appeared to be a record for this war.

"There may have been others who have shot down six planes in one day," a Navy official said, "but no reports on them have been received. So far as we know Lieutenant O'Hare's feat was the highest single bag and a record for the war."

Records available tonight showed that the closest approach to O'Hare's record was made during the first World War when David I. Ingalls shot down five enemy planes in one day. Ingalls, who was described as the only Navy ace of World War I, later became assistant secretary of the Navy for aeronautics.

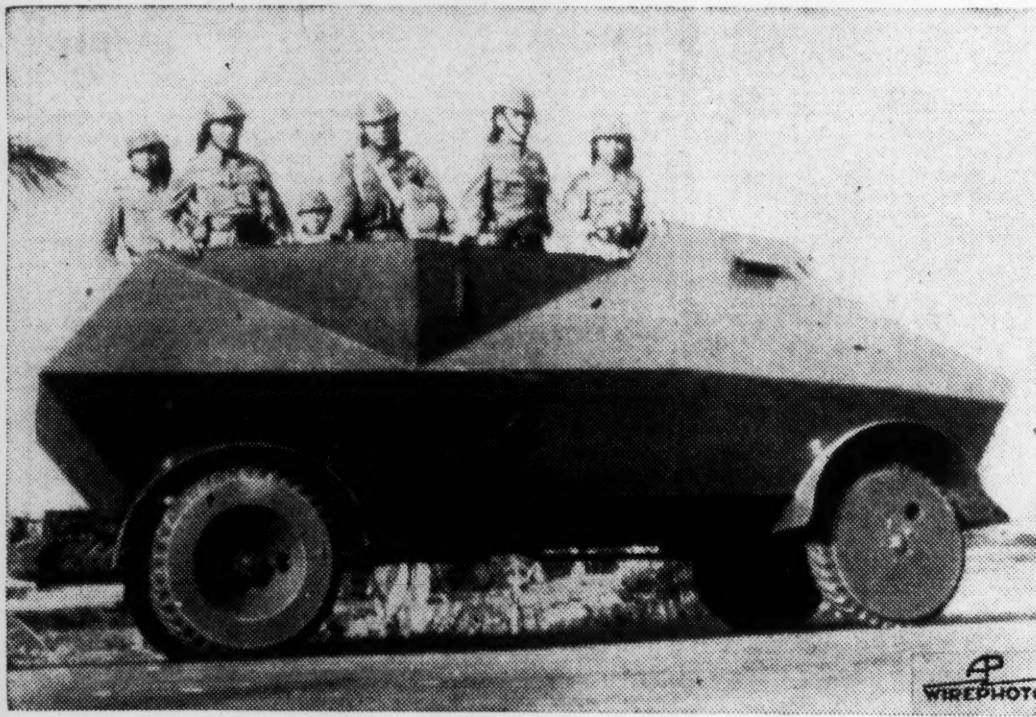

During the present war an American volunteer aviator in Burma who has not been identified here so far shot down four enemy planes in one day.

SPANISH REFUGEES.

VERA CRUZ, Mexico, March 3.—(AP)—Forty-eight Spanish Republican refugees arrived here early today aboard the steamer Nyassa after a 32-day trip from Casablanca, Morocco.

LIBYA QUIET.

CAIRO, March 3.—(AP)—British headquarters reported today considerable Axis air operations over British advance positions in the Libyan battle zone, but said on land there was only patrol activity.

JARRING THE JAPS—Fighting men and machines such as these were reported yesterday to have brought the Japanese invasion of Java to a standstill. Above is shown a defending troop transport at Bandoeng.

Japs Repulsed By Allies in Counterattack

Dutch bombers were hitting at the Japanese invasion forces in Java waters and at near-by air bases, while the Japanese were centering their force upon Bandoeng military headquarters in a heavy raid of one and a half hours by bombers and fighter craft.

Sixty enemy planes were observed at one time. Anti-aircraft batteries and outnumbered Allied fighter pilots were unable to break up the enemy formations. One enemy plane was shot down by Dutch fighters.

There was another alert in the afternoon.

During the morning raid, some gasoline and oxygen tanks were destroyed in the Bandoeng area. The casualties were few, among them two persons killed by a direct hit on an air raid shelter.

Striking at Japanese air bases of unstated location—presumably on Sumatra—Allied air forces machinegunned and put out of action 10 Japanese navy "Zero" fighters which were about to take off. The pilots were killed.

Two of three enemy seaplanes, attacked elsewhere, were likewise destroyed.

(The strong Japanese air attack upon Bandoeng raised portentous questions. On Monday it had appeared from Dutch accounts that air superiority was held for the moment by the Allies. Whether the Bandoeng attack indicated that this had been overturned or merely that the enemy was concentrating his force on one objective at a time was not clear.)

Two Transports.

Two more Japanese transports of 10,000 and 8,000 tons respectively, were squarely hit and a Japanese tanker was sunk by a submarine to bring known enemy losses to 30 warships and other vessels sunk or damaged.

As this Allied action against the enemy's sea trains went on it was reported that only five ships remained afloat of an original enemy force of 12 warships which had carried the invaders ashore at Rembang in northeast Java.

The Dutch command, telling the story of a great resistance to enemy forces aground, thus summed up the position in its communique of yesterday afternoon:

"In none of the three regions of Java where the enemy landed troops during the night of Saturday to Sunday has the enemy succeeded in advancing since the infiltration which was carried out in the course of Sunday."

"At various points our troops, who are showing a splendid offensive spirit, are in close contact with the enemy."

No Confirmation.

There was no confirmation here of reports from abroad of the approach of any new Japanese invasion fleet, nor was there any indication of any fresh landing anywhere on Java.

The known Japanese landing forces (said in London reports to number 85,000 to 100,000) were last reported in this position.

One column, trying to advance from beach-heads on Indramayu bay, west Java, stalled 30 miles from Bandoeng.

The second column, about 85 miles west of the Soerabaja naval base in east Java after an advance from Rembang.

The third column, in the Bantan district of westernmost Java, 60 miles from Batavia, apparently having failed to make much progress inland.

It was disclosed during Tuesday that General Sir Archibald P. Wavell, former supreme Allied commander in the southwest Pacific who now resumes the India-Burmese command, had left Java some time ago.

SOIL STUDY.

EATONTON, Ga., March 3.—Directors of the Putnam County Farm Board Friday night voted to make a study of soil conservation and pasture improvement at its March session.

Meeting with J. Douglas Hudson, the group includes A. F. Adams, John W. Holt, David L. Lynch, George M. Scheer, Willie P. Phillips and W. E. Hunter.

Several Enemy Aliens Seized In Birmingham

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., March 3.—(AP)—E. P. Guinane, special agent in charge of the FBI in Alabama, said today "several enemy aliens of German and Italian nationalities" had been taken into custody in raids in the Birmingham area.

Dwellings and business houses of 34 aliens were searched and a large number of prohibited articles seized by FBI agents and other law enforcement officers.

Guinane listed the property seized as 11 revolvers, four shotguns, a quantity of ammunition, five short-wave radios, 10 cameras, two binoculars and "several maps of vital Birmingham industries."

The raids here followed a drive in Mobile and Baldwin county, Ala., when 12 aliens were taken into custody.

Alien Evacuation Promised on Coast

SAN FRANCISCO, March 3.—(AP)—Evacuation of enemy aliens and American-born Japanese from all the coastal area and much of the fertile inland valleys of the Pacific coast was promised today in a sweeping Army order setting up new prohibited and restricted areas.

Lieutenant General J. L. Dewitt, commanding general of the Western Defense Command, marked off half of the states of Washington, Oregon, California and Arizona as military area No. 1, from which enemy aliens will be excluded by future order. He hinted this exclusion would start soon.

Japanese, including those of American birth, will be moved first. Later Germans and Italians will be ordered out in a continuing evacuation probably lasting four months and affecting perhaps 200,000 people.

The forbidden area "is particularly subject to attack, to attempted invasion," the general said, and "is subject to espionage and acts of sabotage."

Fireworks Seized In FBI Raid

SANTA CRUZ, Cal., March 3.—(AP)—Sixty-nine cases of flares, skyrockets and other fireworks were seized in an FBI raid on a Japanese home today.

FBI agents and Sheriff E. R. Devitt arrested George Nakamura, Japanese alien, as the owner of the fireworks which could have been used for signalling from his home on Monterey bay.

ITALIAN SHIP HIT.

ROME, (From Italian Broadcasts), March 3.—(AP)—Several merchant ships in the harbor of Palermo, Sicily, were hit by British bombers in two attacks last night and one of the vessels was sunk, the Italian high command said today.

Professor Walter R. Chivers will preside.

Dr. Herman L. Turner will speak at the second annual meeting of the American Youth Hostels at 6 o'clock Friday night at the First Methodist church.

LOOK OUT, INVADERS—Grimly determined troops are riding out of Bandoeng today in tractor-transport such as this. This picture, and that alongside, were made by Deane Dickason, American writer and traveler, late in 1941.

Taborda Holds Slim Lead in President Race

BUENOS AIRES, March 3.—(AP) Deputy Raul Damonte Taborda, head of the so-called Argentine congressional "Dios committee" and outspoken opponent of acting President Castillo's foreign policy of maintaining diplomatic relations with the Axis powers, appeared certain of re-election to the chamber tonight.

In the early tabulations of last Sunday's balloting for chamber seats, Damonte Taborda topped the list of his fellow radical party candidates, who with the Socialists were running well ahead of Castillo's Conservative party candidates.

The election board count of the first 75 of 235 ballot boxes in the pivotal federal district about Buenos Aires showed the Socialists leading with 5,391 votes to 4,958 for Damonte Taborda's Radicals and 3,162 for the Conservatives.

If this trend continues, the Socialists would win the 12 majority seats for the district and the second-running Radicals the other six, reversing their present representation in congress.

ATLANTIAN ON PROGRAM.

MILLEDGEVILLE, Ga., March 3.—Minna Hecker, Atlanta coloratura soprano, will be featured on the Georgia State College for Women music appreciation hour program at 8:30 p. m. Wednesday in Russell auditorium.

U. S. Studying Means To Help Defend India

WASHINGTON, March 3.—(AP) Summer Welles, acting secretary of state, indicated today that administration officials were urgently considering measures to help the defense of India and establish there a base of supplies for armies fighting in China and other far Pacific areas.

He declined to comment specifically on a report that the United States soon would send a special supply mission to India, but told a press conference that an announcement on that general subject might be made within the next day or two.

In reply to another question Welles said it was not true that the United States had established a naval base in Ecuador. He pointed out, however, that the United States and Ecuador had agreed some time ago on co-operative measures for defense, and that these naturally involved the common use of certain facilities by the sea forces of both countries.

Churchill Plans Statement on India

LONDON, March 3.—(AP)—Prime Minister Churchill will make a statement "in a few days" regarding the status of India, the Duke of Devonshire disclosed today during debate in the house of lords.

The Duke, parliamentary under-secretary for India, indicated the declaration would be a reply to an appeal made to Churchill January 5 by a group of Indian leaders who asked for "some bold stroke of far-sighted statesmanship without delay" to insure India's full co-operation in the war.

What the Navy Does

Admiral Ernest J. King, commander-in-chief of the United States fleet, has answered, as fully as war conditions permit, the question most frequently asked by Americans. That is, what is the United States fleet doing?

Our Navy, the admiral stated, is busy in building up vital air and sea communications preliminary to developing a general offensive against the Axis powers.

This war, though it is a direct attack on us, is being fought, so far, a long way from continental United States. It is being fought with the aid of allies who are scattered all around the globe.

To win this war it is, therefore, the primary job for our ocean forces to open, and keep open, the routes by which we can send our planes, our ships, our guns and tanks and our men to the arenas of battle. It would be a maddening act to undertake offensive, on any scale, until after these routes of communication and supply are secure. No general goes into battle unless he is reasonably safe from being cut off at his rear.

There are 3,000 miles of ocean in the North Atlantic to be made safe for our convoys to Britain. There is the long journey to the edge of the Arctic Circle, by which our ships must reach the northern Russian ports.

There are 4,000 miles across the South Atlantic, to Africa and, farther, around the Cape. There are 7,500 miles of ocean to be safeguarded between our Pacific ports and Australia, the Philippines, etc.

That the Navy is doing a grand job is evidenced by the occasional glimpse we get of its activities—as at the Marshall and Gilbert Islands. We must rest content that American warships and the men who man them are performing in manner fully worthy of the heritage of the Navy and we must, at the same time, redouble efforts to provide for them more ships, more planes and more of everything needed to ready the blow the enemy will get, never fail, in due time.

The harder we work the sooner that blow will fall.

Under the Stones

The Federal Bureau of Investigation appears to be doing an excellent job in rounding up dangerous enemy aliens in California. Hundreds of Japanese, German and Italian residents of that state have been seized. Many have been found to be in direct communication with the enemy lands and large quantities of hidden weapons, ammunition, uniforms, maps, radios and other forbidden things have been taken.

Undoubtedly the efforts of the FBI have forestalled what would have been serious sabotage or Fifth Column actions against vital war centers or war factories by these enemy agents among us. It is only to be hoped the FBI will be able to scotch all such plots before they are put into practice, anywhere in the nation.

In this checkmating of enemy activity in our own land it is much better to take no chances, even at the risk of working injustice to some individuals. Whenever the FBI is in doubt as to the guilt or innocence of an enemy alien under observation, he should be judged guilty until proven otherwise. It must be remembered that what is at stake are the lives and safety of fighters and workers for Uncle Sam, and the very existence of the United States itself. There can be no standing on "constitutional rights" or technicalities of the law in such cases. The proper procedure is to place every possible suspect where he can do no damage and keep him there until all possibility of damage is a thing of the past.

To any who complain that such methods are too drastic, it should be reminded that these are our mortal enemy nations, that we can take no chances in such a war as that we now fight and, also, that there are no American or British or Russian citizens allowed to move around at their pleasure, today, in Berlin, Tokyo, or, even, Rome.

Call To Better Service

Donald M. Nelson, war production director, on Monday night sounded a call to American industry which should serve as inspiring challenge to every man worthy of the name American.

Director Nelson called for joint service of industrial management and industrial labor, in an all-out effort that shall see every machine tool in the country being worked 168 hours a week and shall see, at the end of the year, a total war production surpassing even the goals set by President Roosevelt.

There were many logical and thoroughly workable plans given by Nelson. He wants each plant operator not to wait for Washington to come to him, war contract in hand, but to analyze his own plant and its equipment, find out how it can best serve the war program and offer it to the nation for such service.

He has called on every primary war plant to create a committee representing both management and workers, to set production goals for every department and every worker. Then, with these goals before them, Nelson calls on every man and woman on the assembly lines to surpass those goals.

He asks that every employee of every factory, no matter how humble, submit suggestions for speeding production or for operating more efficiently, to the plant committee. Those believed feasible this committee will send to Washington where, if found good, each suggestion will be sent to every similar factory working on the war program.

Nelson is working out a plan whereby the worker who does an exceptional job, or whose idea serves to boost the national production rate, will receive national recognition, through an award corresponding to the honors which men of the armed forces receive for special heroism.

These ideas are good. They should speed the national effort to results not yet dreamed. For, once place a goal, a tough goal, before the average American, and he will enter as into a game, determined to win no matter what effort it costs.

There is one branch of the war production program, however, which will have to receive special attention. The builders of ships have surpassed all other groups in the manner in which they are ahead of schedule. Yet shipping lack is the worst bottleneck in the entire program. It is said that American war supplies are piling up at our ports for lack of ships to carry them to the arenas of war.

The Navy is trying to build its total force to overwhelming, two-ocean strength as rapidly as possible. Yet the need for more merchant ships is acute.

You can't build a cargo carrier and a warship in the same drydock at the same time.

The decision will soon have to be made which shall have priority in ship-building space, in raw material. Either the Navy will have to slow its building program, or we shall continue to be handicapped by lack of ocean-going cargo space.

It is a ticklish problem to solve and, whoever is charged with the decision, must bear a tremendous responsibility to the nation.

It has been hinted the responsibility is too great for any Washington official and may be passed, as have so many others, to the President for his solution.

Georgia Editors Say:

OTHER HITLER AGENTS

(From The Brunswick News.) Secretary of the Navy Knox has ordered—no doubt as the result of public dissatisfaction with the previously given "official explanation"—a thorough investigation of the burning of the great liner Normandie, which caught fire and toppled over while undergoing conversion as an airplane carrier to be used by this country.

When the great French vessel keeled over, the Navy reported that it had burned as the result of a spark from a workman's torch igniting highly inflammable supplies aboard.

On the face of it, this explanation seemed a bit thin and, whatever the facts in the case may be, it is obvious that the Axis would like to have destroyed this vessel, the second largest in the world.

But, pending the findings of the probing committee, let us advance on the assumption that no saboteurs were aboard and responsible for the disaster. Even so, it remains obvious that Nazi agents were responsible for what happened.

It needs to be borne in mind that saboteurs are not the only agents who are working for Hitler. On Hitler's side, too, are thoughtlessness and carelessness.

For example, the fact that inflammable material was allowed to be placed within reach of sparks from the torch is indicative of carelessness and thoughtlessness of the worst sort. It also represents a third Hitler "agent," negligence.

The loss of the Normandie is represented not so much in dollars as it is in time. Even if the great ship can eventually be reclaimed, months of precious time when it might have been serving the Allied cause will have slipped away.

The Normandie fire happened, just as Pearl Harbor happened, because somebody was asleep. Wake up, America!

WASHINGTON PARADE

By GLADSTONE WILLIAMS.

WARNING FROM DIPLOMAT

WASHINGTON, March 3. It is often possible to make a better appraisal of events from a distant point than it is close at hand. One's perspective is broader and hence more comprehensive.

On this basis, the country may well take heed of a warning just sounded by one of our seasoned diplomatic observers abroad who sees a danger of the people of the United States failing to have a proper conception of the true magnitude of the struggle in which we are engaged.

Diplomatic usage makes it improper to give the official's name. Suffice it to say that he has seen long years of service in European capitals and that his observation was made in a personal communication arriving in diplomatic pouches from his present post in the British Isles. What he writes is worthy of mature thought by thinking people.

"There is no evidence in the American press," he declared, "of the people having a proper conception of the struggle in which we are engaged. It is not being brought home to the people the magnitude of the task we have before us. The will to win on the part of the Germans and the Japanese, and to a lesser degree, the Italians, is nothing short of religious fervor. It is going to take the same sort of fervor on our part to win this war."

"What I am afraid of is that we as a people have been pampered so long by our government and by lack of discipline that we are incapable of rising to the heights which are necessary to really win this struggle."

TOO MUCH PROFIT MOTIF

The official, bent entirely on arousing the people to a full realization of the dangers in the situation to us, went on to say that most of the Americans and many of the others he came in contact with there are still too much concerned with "how much they can get out of the war."

"If the American people," he warned, "cannot be induced to think in terms of wage reductions instead of wage increases, I see no possibility of our ever winning the war. It seems that the greater part of the people are still thinking of the war as a means of getting something for themselves, instead of having a proper appreciation of the life-and-death struggle in which we have become involved."

Another observation contained in the same communication makes what seems to be a sound criticism of our practice of revealing too much of our war production plans. All such information, it is pointed out, is thus made available to the Axis nations. The importance of the practice lies in the fact it gives our enemies the measure of production they must attain in maintaining the initiative and in winning the war.

Here is how the American official, viewing the situation from afar, puts it:

WE TELL TOO MUCH

"It has particularly struck my attention that we are talking too much in the United States about what we are producing. It seems that every time a ship is launched somebody in the government tells the world about it. We receive it in telegraphic bulletins from the State Department. There is an announcement from the secretary of the navy each time a warship is launched, and we tell the world we are going to build the biggest Navy in the world, and just how many ships we are going to build."

"It is inconceivable that there is any domestic situation in the United States which would necessitate either the press or the government using this class of information so greatly to our disadvantage. The recurrence of such statements in the press abroad creates a very bad impression. It also gives our enemies the measure of production they must maintain to win the war. The whole thing puts us in an unenviable position detrimental to our best interests."

These are observations which are more readily made abroad than here at home. Here we are too close to the scene to realize their import. Certainly, it seems, we should not reveal to the world every time we launch a new battleship. The British don't do it that way.

PUTS AXIS ON NOTICE

Neither do we advertise the scope of progress of our war program against, what they may expect in the way of American action, when and, to a certain degree, how it will come. Naturally they may be expected to take measures in the meantime to offset it.

In justice to the Navy Department, it may be said that little was to be accomplished by imposing censorship on the warship launchings we have announced since we were drawn into the conflict. The Axis nations undoubtedly knew what the schedule called for and were able to say approximately when the ships would leave the ways. Stricter rules should be applied, however, as regards new units of our fleet henceforth. Let our enemies find out about them only when they go into action. That will be time enough to proclaim our growing progress.

FANATICAL FERVOR

What we have got to achieve is something akin to the fanatical religious fervor that guides the Germans and the Japanese. They realize that, if they lose the war, they are wiped out as anything more than a third-rate world power for a hundred years to come—perhaps not even that. We need to realize that the same or worse fate awaits us if we lose. Too few of our newspapers, public officials, and true-spirited civic leaders to drone the idea constantly in the public mind.

This is a war in which we have put all of our blue chips on the table. If we lose, we are through.

SILHOUETTES

By RALPH T. JONES.

Views of A Taxi Driver.

He was driving me on Monday morning from Sea Island to the railroad station at Brunswick, to catch "The Clacker," the diesel-engine train that runs between the Glynn county city and Atlanta.

We had discussed the rubber shortage and its effect on tires and how so many people were traveling by train or bus, these days, instead of using their own cars.

"I was using my own car only to drive the mile, up hill, between home and De-catur, from whence I streetcar to the office and back each day. I mention this for it has reference to my driver's later remarks."

We got onto the subject of war in general and the part the United States is playing in it.

"We ain't going to win this war," he commented, "until we get rid of about half the folks who are cluttering Washington. Lot of folks with ideas about frilly gadgets and things, but the main idea of all of them is to get a soft snap for themselves."

"I tell you we've got to put the whole country on war footing. That means everybody obeying orders without question. When the folks we leave in Washington to do the job tell a guy he's to do something, he'll do it. There'll be no more of 'Sorry old chap. Can't do that tonight. I've got a dinner engagement.'"

"Me, I'd kinder like to see them put every one of the nation in the Army, on 21 bucks a month, and then put 'em to work doing what they're told. You'd walk that mile to your streetcar then, even though it is uphill, and like it. And we'd be in fair way to winning the war, too."

Incident on Train.

Across the aisle from me on the train, all the way from Brunswick to Macon, was a young woman who was, just about as delicious a picture of feminine charm you'd care to see. Just looking at her, occasionally made a tiresome trip not so bad.

In the seat behind me was an old man, an octogenarian, I'd guess, who got on at some small south Georgia town and got off at another equally small.

Every now and then he'd lean forward and speak to me over the back of my seat.

The delightful lady across the aisle lit a cigarette.

The old man leaned forward, with comment to make in the old, when they are somewhat deaf.

"I was in Tampa some years ago," he said, "on an elevator in a building there. Don't know how high 'twas, but I was going to the seventh floor. The elevator was full, but there was only one woman. All the men had their hats off, except me, because this woman was on the car. I sez to her, 'Lady, would you smoke a cigarette if someone offered you one?' She sez, 'Why, certainly. With pleasure.'"

"So I sez to her, 'Well, I ain't going to take my hat off for you. Cose you ain't no lady.' I tell you, a woman smoking cigarettes is a bad sight. It ain't right. Makes 'em masculine."

I did the only thing I could. Laughed. The lady across the aisle went on smoking with perfect sang froid.

But it would take something a lot more powerful than a cigarette to make that charming creature anything other than most alluring feminine.

Rain, Hail And Snow.

It rained when leaving Sea Island on Monday morning, and it rained all the way up, except in those places where it hailed or snowed.

Hail as far south as Baxley and the snow was sticking to the ground in spots south of Jackson. They told us at Macon what to expect in Atlanta and points north.

Trains crowded, as are the buses, with folks whose auto tires are precious to use unnecessarily.

Did it look attractive to me, I had the foresight to carry my own lunch with me, in both directions. If taking that train, you'll be wise to do likewise.

Dogs For War

HOLLYWOOD, Cal., March 3.—In North Hollywood there is a man who sits every night and reads the papers about the war in Malaya, the war in the Indies, the war in the Philippines—and then puts the papers down and dreams about how many lives might have been saved, and even how the results might have been different, if they had used dogs.

Yes, dogs.

For this man is one of America's premier dog trainers, he is right now training a bunch of sentry dogs for the American Army, and he knows about war, too, for he spent four years in the last one—on the other side.

His name is Carl Spitz. He is 47, and he has been training dogs most of his life. He is one of the leading trainers for the movies. He owns a huge dog-training school that covers the better part of ten acres. He has five other trainers on his staff—more than any other dog school in the country.

Trained Sentry-Dogs

As far back as 1930 Spitz tried to get the Army to let him train dogs for war use. But nothing came of it. Finally last summer they took him up, in a limited way. Spitz agreed to furnish the Army 50 trained sentry-dogs—at no cost!

He has delivered six, has 12 more under training, and already has spent $1,500 of his own money on the process. He doesn't mind that, but what he does mind is that the Army is so busy now thinking about other things, he can't get anybody to think any further about dogs.

Spitz says Germany had 50,000 dogs in the last war, and that 7,000 were killed. He says they're being used in this war, too, for he's read about it.

The most startling story he has heard out of this war is about a messenger dog dropped by paratroopers to a Finnish scouting party behind the Russian lines. He says a message was attached to the dog's throat, and it made the 14 miles back home in 20 minutes.

Spitz says the Japanese are using dogs. He feels that in Malaya thousands of lives could have been saved if the British had used dogs. He expresses his feelings picturesquely.

"The Japanese slithered through the jungle," he says, "in water up to their chests. They were all getting caught. But if they'd had dogs, the Japanese couldn't have surprised them. Dogs would have given warning."

"The British weren't trained in jungle fighting," he says, "and they were getting caught. But if they'd had dogs, the Japanese couldn't have surprised them. Dogs would have given warning."

We Need 15,000. Spitz feels that the American Army needs at least 15,000 trained dogs. He says that if a program were set up for it, he could develop a schooling unit that could train that many dogs in a year.

He says he personally could turn out 18 super dog-trainers every three months. (Of course, there are many other fine dog-trainers in the country who could do the same.) These men could then go out and set up dog-training schools at Army camps, and start the ball rolling in a big way.

So far, the dogs trained by Spitz for the Army have cost around $250 apiece. But if done on a large scale, he says the cost could be brought down to $60, including the dog.

He feels there should be two sentry dogs for every mile of the west coast, which would mean 3,000 trained dogs. The same for the east coast, and the gulf. And then countless dogs for war factories and Army warehouses and other key points. In addition to that, dogs for actual use at the battlefield.

Four Types. He would provide four types of training: 1. Guard duty. 2. Scouting dogs, for sniffing out enemy troops at the battlefield. 3. Messenger dogs, for running front-line messages. 4. Red Cross dogs, for locating wounded soldiers and carrying first aid to them.

So far the Army's dog program is infinitesimal, and very much confused. There have been stories about the big dog program, and calls for patriots to donate their dogs to the Army. But the truth is, as far as Spitz knows, that the only dogs being trained are a few down at Fort McArthur near here, and the few he has under way.

Some of his Army dogs were donated by the public, but he went out and bought most of them himself.

Spitz's relatives have been in the United States for generations, and it was always his ambition to get here. He finally made it in 1926. He is a citizen, and has only one distant relative still in Germany. His two brothers were killed in the last war, and he had seven first cousins (Americans) fighting against him. But that's all water over the dam now.

Tomorrow I'll tell you about the fantastic training these Army dogs go through.

the service they plan to join, if acceptable.

The train trip was better than that by bus, in point of time. But there is one great advantage the bus has. You can stop somewhere along the road to get a reasonably good meal.

On this "Cracker" train, though you travel the greater part of the day, there is no provision for a midday meal, save a lunch basket the port will get for you at some way station. Didn't look attractive to me. I had the foresight to carry my own lunch with me, in both directions. If taking that train, you'll be wise to do likewise.

ONE WORD MORE

By RALPH MCGILL.

PHENIX CITY BLEAT

I had not thought to write again about Phenix City, the joint-infested town just across the river from Columbus, Ga. Indeed, the only reason I mentioned it before was merely to wonder why the state of Alabama didn't do something about chasing all the pimps, gamblers, pseudo-white slavers and other vermin out of the town.

Especially did I wonder about the gambling. All the rest of the vice hangs on that. Everything else is secondary.

There isn't a honest gambling place among the half-dozen or more operating in the town. Indeed, the Phenix City gamblers are probably more crooked than the average run of crooked gambling joints, because they have the power to do as they please.

The most prominent murder that can be traced to the crooked gambling tables of Phenix City was that of an Army major at Fort Benning who got in so deep at Phenix City trying to recoup losses there and elsewhere, that he went home directly from Phenix City and killed his wife in a clumsy murder which he thought would not be pinned on him and which he believed would give him some insurance money.

There have been other murders and ruined careers resulting from Phenix City.

Gambling is the very worst of vices and the sort of gambling at Phenix City is the very worst sort of crooked gambling. As I said, I had no idea of writing about the place. It is given over, at night, to the gamblers, the madams, the pimps and the prostitutes and one just wonders why the state of Alabama doesn't get tired of the stink from Phenix City and get rid of it. It was a bleat from Phenix City that brought up the subject again.

"JUST AS BAD—" This bleat from Phenix City was to the effect that conditions elsewhere were just as bad as at Phenix City.

That is a typical bleat, but I often wonder how one has the nerve to make it a public bleat.

If some other town stinks of crooked gambling, and all the other secondary vices, it doesn't mean it makes Phenix City smell any better.

And in the second place, it just isn't true. Phenix City is infamous up and down the southeast. There aren't as bad or as crooked a set of joints in any city in the whole southeast as Phenix City offers.

I don't know the status of the municipality now, but about a year ago the mayor or the head commissioner, or someone, said the municipality was bankrupt and obtained most of its revenue from the joints. This was at the time of one of the Army's insistent clean-up pleas.

Not long ago they arrested some church for making a lot of noise singing. That was something like the Ku Klux Klan preachers having a successful mass meeting and being whipped and run out of town because he was getting more collections. They said he was making too much noise.

A little Catholic priest some time ago said that there were good people in Phenix City, but that they were not strong enough to chase out the gamblers, the panders and the madams. As far as I know, he is the only protest made from down there. The others all defend it. They do have garden clubs and civic clubs and no one denies it. And that isn't the point.

OUT OF BOUNDS I never have any patience with those who wish to seize on the war to keep soldiers from having a glass of beer if they want it, but I do think the state of Alabama owes it to the soldiers to ask the government to make Phenix City out of bounds if the state of Alabama can't do something about it.

Because the crooked joints of Phenix City, the gamblers and their secondary industry, are set up for the sole purpose of cheating the soldiers out of as much money as possible. That's what they live on.

One industry takes most of the money. The other industry isn't regulated or examined and it produces the so-called social diseases, largely because Phenix City's methods are so sordid and dirty the girls can't keep clean.

The crooked joints are an industry living off cheating the soldier and as such they have no right to exist.

Columbus does a very good job and I think would do a good, sane job if the Phenix City joints were closed up. Columbus just naturally wouldn't allow an industry to be set up for the sole purpose of doing the soldiers, officers and men, as much financial harm as possible.

You can't cure by legislation, but

Dudley Glass

Bob Quillen, who writes a most informative, interesting and often stirring column for The Constitution and other papers, referred a few days ago to the public's ignorance about public affairs and public people. He said that, despite all the publicity, a poll revealed that 76 per cent of the interviewed public didn't know who was head of the CIO, and that even among the union folk themselves 70 per cent didn't know.

I can understand that—because I didn't know. I asked a few union folk around this news factory and they couldn't quite recall the name, either. After a number of telephone calls I learned that one Philip Murray is president. At least, my informant thought so. But in everybody's mind is the thought that the bushy-haired John L. Lewis is head man of the CIO, no matter who's president. And I think that's correct.

Little story came into the shop the other day which said Paul V. McNutt was to address a few union convention. I had met Mr. McNutt, when he was Governor of Indiana or some other state. I had known he had gone to Washington in some capacity. But it took me seven telephone calls to learn his official title, which consisted of seven or eleven words which I have forgotten.

I'll readily agree with Mr. Quillen that we, the people, are ignorant. Few of us knew whether Singapore was Dutch, British or Chinese or what region on the map it was on and we didn't care a cuss. To this day I don't know whether it is pronounced "Sing-a-pore" with the first syllable like singing a song, or "Sin-ga-pore," with the first syllable like breaking a comment. The radio announcers give it both ways.

But Mr. Quillen should realize that this is a swiftly changing world, especially in Washington. With the exception of Mr. Roosevelt and his cabinet, officials and titles change overnight. A big shot who went to bed as vice chairman of the XYZ comes to work next morning to find he is director of the IOU. With a new desk and a fresh set of secretaries.

Ready help in time of trouble for newspaper folk has been the old reliable World Almanac, which tells everything except how to cure dandruff. You could find all senators, representatives, Governors and perhaps justices of the peace in that. But it has proved a flop this year, because it doesn't issue a daily edition.

About Hair

Out in the wide open spaces of the middle west a man has sued a woman beauty doctor for $7,000 because she treated him with a miraculous lizard oil which would restore hair to his bald head. It didn't. Story doesn't say how the suit came out. But the prosecuting attorney asserted there is no brand of lizard whose oil will cause hair to blossom upon an arid pate.

My personal opinion is that any man who pays $7,000 for a fresh suit of hair is a sucker who deserves to lose his money. Even if it would work.

Most of mine is gone, but it doesn't worry me. Possibly because the bare spot is on the top of my cranium where I can't see it except when I'm trying on a new hat in one of those triplicate mirrors. In that case my first thought is: Who is that bald-headed, skinny guy looking over my shoulder? Rest of the time I forget it.

I can't make over this universe or its people, much as I'd like to tackle the job, at an adequate salary.

But I would like to know why hair refuses to grow on a man's head where it is supposed to be an ornament, and insists on growing on chin and cheeks and neck, including wrinkles, where it must be shaved off every morning, according to custom's decree.

I am not disturbed about the bald spot—or area—on my head. But I wish I could arrange to trade the next two years' crop of whiskers, so they'd grow there. Think of the time and trouble and razor blades I could save. Maybe our senators and congressmen can do something.

Why not raise collards and get rich? I quote Uncle Jack Hilton of the Banks county Journal:

"J. B. Parham is the only farmer in Banks county that we know of who is selling collards. When one man has so many collards, strange that so many farmers have none. But they all have an excuse for not having."

Band Leader Artie Shaw Wed to Elizabeth Kern

YUMA, Ariz., March 3.—(P)—Artie Shaw, the orchestra leader, and Elizabeth Kern, of Beverly Hills, Cal., were married today by Justice of the Peace R. H. Lutes.

Shaw gave his age as 31; the bride hers as 23. The couple motored from Los Angeles, accompanied by the bride's mother, Mrs. Eva Kern. Shaw married Actress Lana Turner February 13, 1940, and they were divorced September 13 of the same year.

Re-election Is Favored For Senator Norris

McCOOK, Neb., March 3.—(P)—Petitions asking Senator George W. Norris, veteran Nebraska Independent, to seek re-election were circulated by both municipal political parties in his home town today.

Identical resolutions passed by the Municipal League and Citizens' Party declared "in time of stress Senator Norris should be urged to run again with support of his home town."

DISCUSSING WAR—Ralph McGill, left, executive editor of The Constitution, interviewed Pierre Van Paassen, noted war correspondent and author of "Days of Our Years," over the radio yesterday afternoon before Van Paassen lectured last night at Agnes Scott College. The author does not believe the war will end before 1946.

Van Paassen Spots Louisiana As 'Best' Place for Invasion

By LUKE GREENE.

An invasion of the United States at her backdoor—New Orleans—is not out of the question unless this nation sends men and materials and makes a bold stand in Australia and the other far theaters of war.

Reserved, literal-minded Pierre Van Paassen, famous war correspondent and author of the best seller, "Days of Our Years," didn't bat an eyelash as he talked of this eventuality.

They said he was crazy, this Van Paassen, when months ago he declared the Japanese would take Singapore from the land side—the back door, as he likes to call it.

Now, of course, Singapore is just a sad chapter in history which most Americans would like to forget.

There was no frenzied excitement in his voice, no fantastic gleam in his eyes as he spoke of an invasion at New Orleans—a thought which might strike some complacent individuals as ridiculous and, to say the least, startling.

Sounds Warning

"That's the most logical place for an invasion of this nation," he said. "And don't be lulled into the thought that they're not getting ready for it all the time. The Axis nations must have 5,000,000 men scattered all over South America. They're there, just don't forget that."

Van Paassen was sitting in a downtown radio station, just after participating in a radio interview with Ralph McGill, executive editor of The Constitution. Van Paassen is a former member of The Constitution staff and interrupted frequently to ask about old chums he knew back in 1921 and 1922.

Last night he lectured at Agnes Scott College under auspices of the Atlanta branch of the American Association of University Women. He was introduced by Mrs. Stephen Hale, president of the Atlanta branch. Dr. J. R. McCain, of Agnes Scott, presided.

The principal strategy of the Japanese and Germans right now is to bring their forces together, he said. As soon as spring opens up, he expects the Germans to try to stabilize the northern Russian front, keeping the Russians at bay with combined forces of Bulgaria, Rumania and a few other countries, while on the south a powerful German force will make a stab at the rich oil centers of Iran, Iraq and the Caucasus.

Confidence in Reds

The noted author and correspondent grabbed a sheet of copy paper and scribbled a rough map to illustrate what he was talking about.

He has great confidence in the Russians, he said, and believes they'll be able to hold on as long as the Germans don't penetrate beyond the Ural mountains. The Russians have been preparing for this war since away back in 1923, when they started the Five-Year Plan, Van Paassen pointed out.

The Russian's success, he explained, has hinged largely on the fact that they have removed their industrial apparatus away from European Russia.

He spoke of the coming "African campaign," which he said, would be a synchronization of the Japanese and German efforts to get at the rich oil fields.

The thing that constantly amazes Van Paassen, he said, is that the Japanese and Germans have made no bones about predicting what they were going to do and have gone right along doing it, while the rest of the world sits back in astonishment, making no apparent effort to cope with the bold forecasts of things to come.

"Virtually everything these two nations have done, they told us they were going to do in advance. This Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor, it was all planned and we have been providing them with supplies to carry it out," the Dutch author continued in his clipped accent.

SINGleness OF PURPOSE.

Continuing the thought suggested in yesterday's column—priorities of the Spirit—I would like to go a step further today with the thought that there must be singleness of purpose if we are to achieve anything.

Paul got his idea of singleness of purpose from the Lord Jesus Christ. In the Sermon on the Mount, Jesus said: "Where your treasure is, there will your heart be also. The light of the body is the eye; if, therefore, thine eye be single, thy whole body shall be full of light. No man can serve two masters. . . . Ye cannot serve God and mammon. . . . But seek ye first the Kingdom of God and His righteousness, and all these things shall be added unto you."

Paul put it superbly when he said, "This one thing I do. . . . Singleness of purpose. It requires singleness of purpose to be a good soldier, and it requires singleness of purpose to be a good supporter of good soldiers. It is singleness of purpose that we need in this country today. Given singleness of purpose in winning this war—a clear understanding of what is involved if we win it, or if we lose it, and all our present distressing problems will melt away like the morning fog before the rising sun."

Ruskin put it well when he wrote: "There are people so fundamentally simple that they are no longer embarrassed by all the irrelevant details which obscure the outlook. They see the essential at a glance and go straight ahead to it." And Robert Lewis Stevenson wrote well when he declared: "Then it is that we begin to measure the stature of our friends, and commit ourselves to contemporary life, unafraid."

One of the poets has expressed the idea of singleness of purpose beautifully and powerfully in these lines:

"One lesson, Nature, let me learn from thee,
One lesson which in every wind is blown,
One lesson of two duties kept at one."

Though the loud world proclaim their enmity—
Of toil unsevered from tranquility;
Of labor, that in last fruit out-groups
Far noisier schemes, accomplished in repose,
Too great for hate, too high for rivalry.

"Yes, while on earth a thousand discords ring,
Man's fitful uproar mingling with his toil,
Still do thy sleepless ministers move on,
Their glorious tasks in silence perfecting."

Still working, blaming still our vain turmoil;
Laborers that shall not fall, when man is gone."

God grant us such singleness of purpose in these days—the all-absorbing passion to give ourselves in utter abandon to the fight for freedom—for liberty under law—God's law.

Woman Injured Going to Hospital

King Winter took a hand in that visit Mrs. Johnnie Crawford planned to pay her soldier-husband at his bedside in Lawson General hospital—and she arrived there a patient!

Mrs. Crawford, whose home is Tallahassee, Fla., wasn't used to the kind of snow she encountered on the road from Jonesboro to Atlanta Monday and somehow her automobile and that of another woman driver met in head-on collision on the slick, snow-banked road north of Jonesboro. Both women were bruised and shaken up in the crash and Mrs. Crawford finished her trip to Atlanta in a Brandon-Camp ambulance driven by T. F. Conn.

Medical officers at Lawson discharged Mrs. Crawford yesterday morning. Her husband, a private first-class, is still confined to the hospital with a broken arm.

and what Hitler will do," he went on. "Hitler is nothing. All of this was planned in the Geopolitical Institute at Munich. And the Japanese have been following closely this geopolitical plan."

"We've Got to Fight."

"This place, this institute, has 1,200 professors and is doing the planning. They have maps showing what they expect to be the result of the present war in the Pacific. They have maps showing the United States divided into two parts—all east of Chicago going to Germany, and all west of Chicago coming under the Japanese flag."

"I tell you, we've got to fight. You can't win a war unless you start fighting."

Van Paassen has definite ideas about when the war will end. He thinks it will be in 1946 or 1947. And the end will come, he says, only when this country starts flying bombers through the stratosphere to bomb Berlin and the entire German nation.

The Dutch in Java, Van Paassen thinks, will provide some of the kind of heroism that General Douglas MacArthur has been staging in the Philippines. But in a month's time, he believes Java will be gone.

American expeditionary forces, he says, were sent to Ireland to deal with Hitler when he starts turning to the Western Hemisphere. He thinks it wouldn't be a bad idea for the United States to negotiate with the Irish Free State, which, so far, has remained neutral, concerning the building of bases that he hardly thinks such negotiations could begin with England.

In order for Japan and Germany to merge their fighting strength, he suggests it may be necessary for them to go through Turkey, which he said, probably has about 400 planes, many of them obsolete type.

Gallup Poll Reveals:

Colds Are on Increase in U. S.

By GEORGE GALLUP.

Director, American Institute of Public Opinion.

PRINCETON, N. J., March 3.—In the one week period ending February 24, a survey by the American Institute of Public Opinion found colds reported in nearly two-fifths of American homes, with an estimated total of 23,000,000 persons afflicted.

The number of colds in February was 5,000,000 greater than in December, when a similar institute survey found 18,000,000 persons afflicted during the week ending December 24.

One-half of all work-time lost in war industries from illness is lost because of the common cold, a recent institute survey found. Hence, the sharp increase in the incidence of colds during February is of vital importance as the nation bends every effort to outproduce the Axis enemies.

The largest increase in colds since December has come in the Rocky mountain and Pacific coast

Nazis To Shoot 20 Frenchmen In Sentry Death

20 More Will Be Executed If Attackers Aren't Caught.

VICHY, Unoccupied France, March 3.—(P)—Germany military authorities announced in Paris today that 20 hostages would be shot in reprisal for the killing of a Nazi sentry Sunday.

The German account said four youths attacked a Paris sentry post Sunday morning and one of them killed the soldier with a pistol shot. Another placed a bomb, which was discovered before it exploded. All escaped.

The Germans announced that an additional 20 hostages would be shot if the attackers were not caught before March 16, and that 40 persons already had been seized among "Communists and Jews belonging to the same circles as the authors of the attack."

HAWAII TO VOTE

HONOLULU, March 3.—(P)—Despite blackouts, martial law and gasoline rationing, the Hawaiian Islands plan to hold primary and general elections next fall, Charles M. Hite, territorial secretary, said today. Officials to be elected include a delegate to the United States congress and territorial, city and county officers.

Flaming Gasoline Burns Five Cars in Hollywood

HOLLYWOOD, March 3.—(P)—Flaming gasoline pouring down both sides of Vine street, two blocks from the celebrated intersection of Hollywood and Vine, today set 10 automobiles afire, destroying five of them.

Police expressed mystification as to source of the fuel. Patrolman W. R. Schottmiller, walking a beat in the neighborhood, suggested it probably was poured and set afire deliberately.

A comparison with earlier surveys on the subject indicates a rising incidence of colds as the winter months continue. Whether the peak has been reached in February, or whether colds will continue to increase in number during March, subsequent surveys will indicate.

Punish Spies, Swedes Say

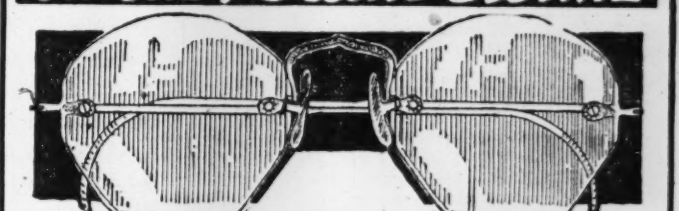

By American Institute of Public Opinion.

PRINCETON, N. J., March 3.—The first poll to be conducted in Sweden, a test poll in Stockholm, showed that the majority of the population expects a long war between the Axis and the Allied Nations.

The second poll, just completed among voters throughout the whole of Sweden, dealt with the issue of punishment for spies and saboteurs working against Sweden. The importance of this issue is obvious in a neutral country where agents of both Axis powers and the Allies reside.

One-third of all Swedes polled in the survey voted for a reintroduction of the death sentence for espionage against Sweden, while a substantial number favored longer prison sentences. Sweden repealed the death sentence in 1921.

Britain Serves Stern Warning On Food Racketeers

LONDON, March 3.—(AP)—The British government served a stern last warning today on food racketeers who fatten their purses on the nation's wartime hunger.

Announcing the determination of the new cabinet to stamp out profiteering and glutty alike, Major Gwilym Lloyd George, parliamentary secretary to the food ministry, told the house of commons that stiff new penalties soon would be imposed on black market operators.

Members immediately renewed their demands for punishment ranging from flogging to life imprisonment for "this most sinister form of sabotage."

The government itself was understood to be considering prison terms ranging from 10 years up for big-time black market operators.

New regulations are expected also to put the screws on sources of supply for luxury clubs and hotels in the West End, where commons members charged well-to-do patrons could get eggs for breakfast and, in one restaurant, a week's ration of ham, at one sitting.

One M. P. proposed a maximum meat price of 75 cents to take the profit out of racketeering. Another suggested firing all waiters and making customers serve themselves.

Simultaneously, Hugh Dalton, new president of the board of trade, told American correspondents Britain must wear less, eat less and drink less and that "we shall gradually have to squeeze out all industry that does not contribute directly or indirectly to the war effort."

This he called a "state of fortress economics."

Major Lloyd George also told the house that rationing would have to be extended and food portions cut in view of loss of shipping and new demands on it. He said, however, that essential food stocks in December were 30 per cent higher than those of a year before, and promised that the nation would not go hungry in 1942.

Extending "our sincere thanks and admiration for the way in which the government and people of the United States have helped us with food," Lloyd George disclosed that one-fifth of Britain's meat ration was United States tinned meat and that lease-lend food from May 1, 1941, to January 1, 1942, was approximately equal to one month's imports from all sources.

Newspapers, crusading for more equitable distribution of Britain's tightened rations, printed typical examples of market abuses. The stories included:

A racketeer who sold $200 worth of sugar for $600.

A housewife who hoarded 352 tins of food.

Bootleggers who pay 50 cents for used whisky bottles with the labels in good condition.

HER WORK IMPORTANT—Many girls, like Louise Dickerson, of Trenton, Ga., who have experience in constructing radio equipment, will be needed to install the electrical system and radio sets in the Bell Aircraft Company's planes. Miss Dickerson is shown putting the last touches on a short-wave radio transmitter built in the Marietta shops of the NYA.

NYA To Train Girls for Jobs In Bell Factory

Women Will Be Taught Machine Work in Agency's Shops.

"Bundles for Britain" has been discarded as women's battle cry. It's "Bombers for Britain" now. Biggest factor in the swing of the hitherto gentler sex to more active participation in the battle of production was the step taken this week by Boisfeuillet Jones, Georgia director of the National Youth Administration, in throwing open NYA's shops to girls.

Anticipating booming employment opportunities for women in the Bell bomber plant near Marietta, after days of conferences with Bell officials, and responding to industry's general increased eagerness to hire experienced girls, the Youth Administration already has started putting girls behind lathes instead of kitchen ranges and on sheet metal shears instead of scissors.

The Bell company will employ women in nearly every phase of its operations. Estimates of the proportion of the 40,000 workers who will be women range as high as 70 per cent.

Girls in the Bell plant should have had experience in machine shop, sheet metal, radio, electricity or assembling operations calling for manual dexterity and manipulative skills. Accordingly, the NYA girls are going into these shops now.

"We're going to filter girls into our heavy shops at a gradual rate proportionate to the job opportunities, however," Jones declared.

NYA officials point out that many girls have long been admitted to some of the shops, such as radio and electricity.

The new resident center at Marietta illustrates how girls will obtain the "on-the-job" experience they will need to secure jobs at the bomber plant. Some of them are already in the sheet metal shop working on an order for 62 stove hoods and 180 tenjacks for the Army's flying school at Cochran field. Others are reconditioning telephone and radio equipment for the Forestry Service, which has located a large office in Marietta to take advantage of the NYA's repair facilities and get all their equipment in A-1 shape.

income on an individual is subject only to the surtax of 6 per cent.

Corporations Affected.

Where corporations are concerned, Morgenthau proposed that the present "normal" rates of 15 to 19 per cent for corporations with incomes up to $25,000 a year and of 24 per cent for larger corporations be left untouched. The present corporate surtax of 6 to 7 per cent would be abolished and replaced by a "special war surtax" of 16 to 31 per cent. Rates on "excess profits," now 35 to 60 per cent, would be raised to a level of 50 to 75 per cent. Capital stock taxes and the levy on "declared value excess profits" would be repealed.

His suggested excises included one cent a bottle on soft drinks, 15 per cent of the manufacturers' price on candy and chewing gum, and 3 cents a gallon on gasoline (double the present rate). The excises also would affect beer, wines and liquors, telephone and telegraphic communications, cigars, cigarettes and smoking tobacco, and transportation of persons.

Attacks "Loop Holes."

Estate and gift taxes would be raised about 60 per cent by changing exemptions and boosting the rates. The estate rates at now 3 to 77 per cent and would be upped to a scale of 8 to 80 per cent, the rate increasing with the size of the gift rates, now three-fourths of the estate rates, would rise in proportion. Morgenthau also proposed that so-called "loop holes" in the tax laws under which, he said, some individuals escape full tax payment, be eliminated.

The new taxes are needed, he told the committee, not only to finance the war, but also as a check on inflation. The new tax law, he said, should be drawn with a view to withdrawing the greatest possible volume of purchasing power. Renewing his opposition to general sales taxes, he said the new rates should be "fair and non-discriminatory and imposed in accordance with ability to pay."

"The cost of this war," he said, "will have to be borne by everyone. It will be borne willingly and cheerfully if the principle of ability to pay is followed."

Scrap Iron Campaign Is Pushed in Hancock

Food Supplies Arrive

In Greece From Pope
NEW YORK, March 3.—(AP)—The Vatican radio said today food supplies sent by Pope Pius XII had arrived in Greece for "the hunger-stricken population."

The broadcast, heard by CBS, said supplies were sent after the apostolic delegate in Greece had informed the Pope of the "grave food situation."

Nelson Eddy Is Greeted by Schoolgirls

Famous Baritone Will Appear in Concert Tonight at 8:30.

By EUGENIA BRIDGES HARTY.
Tall, blond Nelson Eddy came to town last night and the school girls turned out to meet him.

"When does the kissing begin?" asked the famous baritone of screen, radio and concert, who sings here tonight at the municipal auditorium on the All-Star Series. And though Eddy spoke jestingly, smiling disarmingly, the girls were shy. They hung their heads and there was a brief silence.

The singer was snappily turned out in gray tweeds and a blue shirt the color of his eyes.

Merits of Artists.
He discussed the relative merits of Bing Crosby, Glenn Miller and John Charles Thomas and Lawrence Tibbett. He likes them all. "All things have their proper places," he said. In fact, he seems to like everyone. But he prefers the first two mentioned stick to their "swing" and the last two, to their grand opera.

Grand opera is fine, but not for Hollywood yet, according to Eddy. Its plots are stilted. Hollywood cannot afford to take a chance, with such tremendous overheads as it carries.

"The general public does not like it," he believes. He also thinks that though Olin Downes professes it will come (and he talked to him on the subject 10 years ago), that it is yet a thing of the far distant future because opera singers cannot act.

"I never said I could act," he added, earnestly, "so no one can hold that against me. Why, if I had to get up on the stage and act without music—in a serious dramatic production, I think I'd go to pieces!" he added vehemently.

Stars in New Film.
He spoke of his new picture in which he is again co-starred with Jeanette MacDonald—"I Married an Angel." It is as unlike the stage play as his recent vehicle, "The Chocolate Soldier" was the light opera.

"I always thought 'The Chocolate Soldier' should have been renamed 'The Chocolate Guard' for another picture. But what or when, he does not know. Pausing for breath during his press conference, he uttered a low sort of grunt. "Ugh . . ." he said and looked about for approval from his audience. All eyes were focused on him in bewilderment.

Concert at 8:30.
"But everyone in Atlanta says 'Ugh,'" he explained. "Will you—ugh—have a cigarette?" he finished.

"Will you all have a cigarette?" one of his audience corrected him. "But I thought," he finished in amazement, "that only happened in the movies!" And he looked as wide-eyed as his audience.

Eddy's concert tonight, under the auspices of the Atlanta Music Club, will begin at 8:30 o'clock.

Rites at Swainsboro For Accident Victim
Special to THE CONSTITUTION.
SWAINSBORO, Ga., March 3.—Joseph C. Woods, 22, died Friday night at Megett, S. C., as the result of an automobile accident. He had been working in South Carolina for the last seven months.

He was born in Emanuel county and lived most of his life here. He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Frances Sutton Woods; his mother, Mrs. Harvey C. Darden, of Graymont; two brothers, Carl Cowart, of Graymont; three sisters, Mrs. Arizona Lumley, of Soperton; Mrs. Flossie Moore, of Graymont; and Mrs. Pauline Darden, of Stillmore. Funeral services were held yesterday afternoon at Antioch Primitive Baptist church, with Elder Walter Hendricks officiating.

EDDY BEWILDERED—Surrounded by schoolgirl fans upon his arrival in Atlanta last night for his concert tonight at the municipal auditorium, Nelson Eddy indulged in a little clowning for an appreciative audience.

Large Still Raided In Big Creek Swamp

Special to THE CONSTITUTION.
HAWKINSVILLE, Ga., March 3.—Sheriff Dorminy, assisted by Deputy Sheriff Tom Wynne, both of Pulaski county, and Sheriff C. C. Chapman, of Houston county, raided the largest still ever found in this section last week, at a location in the Big Creek swamp.

The officers destroyed 2,500 gallons of mash and a large quantity of whisky on the premises. One man was arrested in the raid.

Bomber Plant Highway Links Given Approval

Dallas, Powder Springs, Roswell Road Units Will Be Paved.

Paving of the Roswell, Powder Springs and Dallas roads, leading into Marietta, was approved yesterday by the Governor in a conference with Cobb county officials, who sought state aid in planning for the Bell bomber plant to be operated by the Bell Aircraft Corporation near Marietta.

The Governor said work on these roads could be completed within eight months or by the time the plant is scheduled to go into operation. State highway engineers will meet with Cobb county officials in Marietta this week to start preliminary work on the projects.

Joe and Connie Westbrook Transferred to Canton, Ga.

By SALLY FORTH.

● ● ● LAST WEEK SALLY mentioned that Joe and Connie Furman Westbrook were having to return dozens of farewell gifts due to the fact that the former's company had decided, at the very last minute, not to transfer him to Grand Rapids, Mich. Too, they were exceedingly embarrassed whenever they thought of the numerous farewell parties that had been given in their honor.

In the meantime, however, they discovered that they could keep the gifts without experiencing pangs of conscience, and that there was no need for embarrassment over the parties. For they were to be transferred, after all!

But not to Grand Rapids, much to the delight of their friends. They will be only 40 miles distant, since Canton, Ga., is to be their new home. Which means that, Connie and Joe will be in Atlanta often, and that their friends may go to Canton for frequent get-togethers.

Incidentally, the Westbrooks will move into the attractive house occupied by Tyre and Sarah Law Jones when they were married several years ago. Sarah, you know, frequently drives to Atlanta to visit her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas C. Law, though lately her trips have been somewhat curtailed due to the fire shortage.

But she and Connie plan to take turn-about with their cars, so that they may drive down whenever they like.

Since Connie already had packed all the Westbrook lures and penates for their removal to Grand Rapids, moving to Canton was merely a matter of hiring a cross-country van. So, she has taken advantage of the freedom from last-minute chores, and on Monday left for Indian Rocks Beach, near Clearwater, Fla., to visit her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Furman, of Greenville, S. C., who have a house at the resort. Joe already has gone to Canton, and will be joined there by Connie within the next two or three weeks.

Even though their friends ARE delighted that the couple isn't going to Michigan, still they are wearing long faces, they are THAT miserable that the Westbrooks are moving away at all. Ever since Connie came here as a bride several years ago, she has been the center of an admiring circle of friends, and she and Joe will be keenly missed despite the bright prospects of frequent returns.

● ● ● ALFRED KENNEDY JR. won the laurel wreath for making the best progress in skiing Monday evening when he put on a pair of skis and sped down a hill on the Bobby Jones golf course. Constance Knowles, Nancy Calhoun, Owen Perry, Charles Shropshire, Mrs. Alfred Kennedy and Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Cogill tried their skill at this fascinating sport, but soon exchanged the skies for a sled. There were snow fights and spills to add to the fun, but the wintry wind proved too penetrating to master the art for many of the fun-loving party.

Your Sunday dinner will be far more interesting if you plan it with students from the Naval Air Base as your guests. For information about inviting the students, call Mrs. W. C. Dutton at Hemlock 1467. Don't forget that today is the "dead-line" for next Sunday.

● ● ● HELEN RANDALL'S Norwegian elk hound, Mike, came into his own, so to speak, with the coming of the snow on Monday. You see, Mike, whose real name is Prince Michael, was born and bred to colder climes than he has found in the sunny south, so the weather was much to his liking. He romped and played in the snow all day, ate snowballs to his heart's content, and seemed quite pleased with the world in general.

A friend in Michigan sent Mike to Helen, who says the dog looks like a cross between an Eskimo huskie and a German police dog. His dark brown hair is long and heavy, and he sports a white ruff around his neck. And you can imagine what a pretty picture he made against the snow!

Incidentally, Mike is the third elk hound Helen has owned, but he is the only one she has been able to raise beyond the puppy stage.

● ● ● TRI DELTA'S national treasurer, Mrs. Alexander Grant, of Milwaukee, came down to Athens last week for a visit to the state university chapter. But instead of the usual happy time anticipated, her visit was rather disastrous, both for herself and the Tri Deltas.

The girls gave a luncheon at the chapter house on Thursday, and all went well. On Friday they had planned a tea, inviting 200 guests to meet their national officer. But when the appointed hour came, there was no honor guest! Mrs. Grant had had the misfortune to slip and fall, and was confined to General hospital with a broken arm.

● ● ● THIS WEEK might aptly be termed "Knoxville Week," judging from the numerous informal social affairs being inspired by the presence of four attractive visitors who are residents of the Tennessee city. They are Mrs. Hugh S. Johnston, Mrs. W. K. McClure, Mrs. Jack Brakebill and Mrs. Tom Thomas.

Mrs. Johnston is the guest of Mrs. Newman Corker at her home on Peachtree road; Mrs. McClure is visiting Mrs. John McDonald Jr. at her home on Wycliff road, and Mrs. Brakebill and Mrs. Thomas are spending

Miss Mize Weds Chester Orvold

Of cordial interest to their friends is the announcement of the marriage of Miss Mary Mize to Chester Orvold, which took place in the Little Chapel of Glenn Memorial church on February 19 in the presence of members of the family and close friends.

The bride, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. Benjamin Franklin Mize, of Greensboro, Ga., was lovely in a gown of powder blue with black and white accessories. She wore a shoulder bouquet of red roses.

Miss Marie Mize attended her sister as maid of honor, and was becomingly attired in a costume of watermelon pink worn with a shoulder bouquet of gardenias. The groom chose as his best man James Brightsman, of College Park.

Unusual sentiment was attached to the ceremony which was read by the father of the bride.

Mr. Orvold is the son of Mrs. Christine Orvold, of Madison, Wis., and was graduated from Stout Institute at Menomonie, Wis. He is a teacher of industrial arts at North Fulton High school.

After their wedding Mr. and Mrs. Orvold left for a wedding trip through north Georgia and Tennessee, and are residing at 3119 Habersham road.

ing several days with Mrs. Charles Pittman. Since all the visitors and their hostesses are mutual friends, the foursome is being jointly honored at a great many of the festivities.

These seven attractive matrons became acquainted in typical "round-robin" fashion. It seems that Mrs. Johnston and her hostess, Mrs. Corker, attended the same college and have kept up their friendship ever since.

Mrs. McDonald, you know, made her home in Knoxville at one time, and while there became acquainted with Mrs. Johnston, through whom she met Mrs. Corker. And it was through the acquaintance of the other three visitors with Mrs. Johnston and Mrs. McDonald that Mrs. Pittman met the other two Atlantas.

And it was entirely through a happy coincidence that the four out-of-towners managed to arrive here for visits at the same time!

● ● ● MEMBERS attending the annual spring membership meeting of the Rabun Gap-Nacoochee senior guild today at the Driving Club have a treat in store for them in the program to be presented by Mrs. Vinnie Ream Boyd. This gifted Atlantan has an unusual flair for dramatics, and her original sketches are always anticipated with great delight. Her choice of selections for today's program bids fair to surpass any that she has given before an Atlanta audience.

Meetings Postponed By Garden Clubs.

Due to the weather a number of garden clubs have postponed meetings scheduled for today.

Members of the Rose Garden Club will meet next Wednesday, March 11, with Mrs. E. N. Cronheim instead of today.

The La Vista Garden Club's meeting at the home of Mrs. R. J. Smith on Clairmont road has been postponed, the date to be announced later.

The Whiteford Garden Club celebrates its 13th anniversary at 2:30 o'clock with Mrs. H. J. Bolton, 1446 Metropolitan avenue.

The Ben Hill Garden Club meets at 3 o'clock at the clubhouse.

Atlanta Pioneer Women's Society meets at 2:30 o'clock at Rich's.

The Study Group on International Relations of the American Association of University Women meets at 3 o'clock with Mrs. George Brown.

Mrs. Howard Pattillo, president of the Atlanta Woman's Club, announces her committees for the Pan-American Circus to be sponsored by the club during the week of March 11-17. The circus will be held at the city auditorium with a special matinee on March 12, for the underprivileged children of Atlanta.

Serving on the matinee committee with Mrs. Pattillo are Mrs. Tom Brooks, Mrs. Frank Brunton, Mrs. James E. Bradley and Mrs. George Brown.

Members of the ticket committee include Mrs. E. E. Bengston,

Mrs. FRANK BURNLEY. Mrs. Burnley, president of Georgia Baptist Women's Missionary Union, will preside over the sixtieth anniversary session, meeting March 17-18 in the Second-Ponce de Leon Baptist church of Atlanta. Mrs. Burnley makes her home in Waynesboro.

Reading from left to right, those youthful schoolgirls, Misses Harriett Witham, Helen Hopkins and Helen Knox, had lots of fun modeling the impudent-looking snow man on the snow-swept lawn of the Stuart Witham residence on Andrews drive. These attractive girls are daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Stuart Witham, Mrs. Elizabeth Hawkins Hopkins, and Mr. and Mrs. Britton Knox. They are classmates at Rivers school and belong to the same social club.

Bette Davis, star of the Warner production, "The Man Who Came to Dinner," knows that thorough, pore-deep cleansing is necessary to a clear, smooth skin. A product such as the one described in the accompanying article is just such a cleanser.

New Cleansing Cream Is Greaseless

The basis of a beautiful skin, it is generally agreed, is cleanliness.

Thorough, yet gentle cleansing is the first requisite in any program of skin care.

Just such a cleanser I have found. It is new, and works on a different principle from any I have ever used before.

It is a cream, but it contains absolutely no grease. It looks more like library paste than anything else I can think of.

It is used differently, too. First it is applied to the skin, then washed off with a damp wash cloth or facial sponge. This would be done gently, but firmly, for this part of the cleansing process is responsible for this product's pore-deep action. A final rinsing with clear water and a brisk patting with the towel complete the operation.

You will notice, even after the first application, that your skin feels smooth. Little flakes of dry skin, which are such a problem to a smooth make-up, have been removed, along with the dust and stale make-up.

If your skin is inclined to be dry, it is a good idea to follow this cleansing with a light application of a rich cream. Particularly, if your face is not used to such a thorough cleansing, you will probably like to use a little of the lubricating cream following the last pat of the towel.

You will be pleased, I know, with this new cream, because it is so easy to use and does such a grand job of getting your face really clean.

You will be pleased, too, that this product is available in Atlanta in a generous $1.00 size. For more information about this product, and where it can be purchased, call Winifred Ware at Walnut 6565. If you live out of town, write me at The Constitution.

Your Horoscope for Today

By ALICE DENTON JENNINGS, Noted Atlanta Astrologist.

What today means to you if you were born between:

March 21st and April 19th (ARIES)

Before 9:34 a. m. guard against any unpremeditated action, rashness in travel and speech. Between 9:34 a. m. and 8:44 p. m. advancement may be made in affairs pertaining to your career.

April 20th and May 20th (TAURUS)

The combined influences operating throughout the entire day, make this a very negative day. The affairs you are attempting will seem to get nowhere. Changes, especially important changes, are not favored, and more care than usual should be given to diet.

May 21st and June 20th (GEMINI)

The morning hours and until 12:30 p. m. is filled with influences that produce harmony, peace and agreeableness, at which time you can put forth much effort to obtain comfort, for dealing in art, land, literary pursuits, and dealings with the opposite sex.

June 21st and July 22nd (CANCER)

You will have desire to surge upon things and if you go shopping, negotiate various articles, you are apt to have a desire to buy more than you need. You are likely to reason that you will have the finances to take care of greater obligations.

July 23rd and August 22nd (LEO)

This is a most favorable day for activities of a pleasant nature. You are likely to be so busy and pleasantly occupied that extravagance will seem a necessity. Use caution that you do not overexert or overdo, in the way of spending.

August 23rd and September 22nd

This is a favorable time for dealing with the opposite sex, or in matters of art. The morning hours attend to matters that demand adaptability and resourcefulness.

September 23rd and October 22nd (LIBRA)

Before 4:30 p. m. is an auspicious period for outlining, conferences, plans and projects, both of a social and business nature. This is a favorable time for seeking the aid of important friends.

October 23rd and November 21st (SCORPIO)

This is a day when you can use your energies advantageously. You can put your ideas across, you can take unusual chances, or people will have the ability to understand you.

November 22nd and December 21st (SAGITTARIUS)

The better part of the day is before 12:37 p. m. when you should give your undivided attention to matters that will vindicate your personal beliefs. This is a favorable period for contacting people of a generous nature.

December 22nd and January 19th (CAPRICORN)

This will be a day when tolerance and broadmindedness will prevail, and you will find people in general ready and eager to assist others.

January 20th and February 18th (AQUARIUS)

The morning hours and until 5:32 p. m. suggest that you use caution in dealing with associates. Avoid making agreements and don't rely too much on promises. Matters of a public nature will be hindered, and this does not favor advancing your interests.

February 19th and March 20th (PISCES)

Before 12:39 noon avoid mental tension, excitement and impulsiveness. If you give in to these feelings, you will find a lack of cooperation around you. After 12:39 noon and continuing until 11:53 p. m. you will find that you can work quickly with a great deal of self-confidence and self-satisfaction.

You may obtain as many astrological charts as you wish for your family and friends. Send in the birthdate, address, stamped, self-addressed envelope and 10 cents in coin to cover EACH birthdate.

Mayor LaGuardia Plays Own Role In Movie, 'The Pride of the Yankees'

By Louella O. Parsons

HOLLYWOOD, March 3.—(INS) New York's mayor, Fiorella La Guardia, "The Little Flower," will no longer blush unseen on account of Sam Goldwyn is putting his zoner in the movies. What's more he will play himself in "The Pride of the Yankees" in a sequence being shot in New York. The mayor, a great baseball fan, was very close to the late Lou Gehrig. He made him parole commissioner, and it was the "Little Flower" who paid the now famous tribute to Lou at the Yankee stadium.

When I was in New York two years ago, I remember Hizzoner was staging a private campaign to bring the movies back east. He said he didn't see why at least half the pictures shouldn't be produced in or around New York—and he really went to bat for his idea. In spite of his enthusiasm, he didn't get very far. Well, if La Guardia didn't succeed in bringing the entire industry back there—he has succeeded in getting one of the Goldwyn camera crews to take his picture.

Strip-tease girls will have no part in any movie if the Hays office has its way. In other words Gypsy Rose Lee's book, "The G-String Murder," will not be filmed in its present form. United Artists bought Gypsy's novel, and it had a lot of publicity at the time it was published. The story in itself is innocuous enough but the fact it features a strip-tease dancer would probably let the Hays office in for a lot of criticism. Seems to me in this instance the Hays office is right. Why start trouble? There are certainly more elevating subjects for movies.

The unpredictable John Garfield, about whom there are always so many rumors this writer gets dizzy trying to check them, is now slated to star in "The Patent Leather Kid." Remember that is the Richard Barthelmess movie in which Dick played a prize fighter? Made in 1927, Warners have been talking about remaking this fight epic for at least two years—mostly with George Raft in mind. John goes east for the Navy show and to make appearances at the various Army camps. Then, if he and Warners don't again change their minds, he will play the gentleman pugilist.

The title, "Hitler's Valet," suggests all sorts of comedy and it probably will be nonsense of a high order since it's a Hal Roach movie. It's Glenn Tryon's first production assignment for Hal and, thank goodness, Mr. Roach has gone back to comedy—the thing he does so well and which gave him his reputation as a producer. The plot of "Hitler's Valet" is being kept under lock and key, but we are told the ex-paper hanger, Hitler, the former strike-agitator, Mussolini and the yellow-bellied Hittler will all be with us in their true colors.

SNAPSHOTS OF HOLLYWOOD COLLECTED AT RANDOM: Victor Mature and his estranged wife, the former Martha Kemp, kept a date Saturday night, but friends say there will not be a reconciliation; Dennis Day, one of Hollywood's best singers, and Linda Brent, youthful actress, a Hollywood tropics twosome; now it's Linda Darnell Vic Orsatti is beaming here and there; Wayne Morris and his bride at the Beverly Tropics. They couldn't go away on a honeymoon, on account of the Navy paged the bridegroom; the Robert Cummings celebrated their eighth wedding anniversary Saturday night with a big party at their valley home; Geraldine Speckles and Joe Allen Jr. romance is hotter than the July sun; Fanny Brice is down to 102 pounds, much too thin for her; Paul Muni is booked for a theater guild show in New York. That's all for today. See you tomorrow! But Kitty Kelly says: "Buy bonds, buy stamps, show those Japs that we're the champs."

Chinese influence is seen in this suit ideal for hours at home or at the beach. Slacks and tunic are made from new patterns, the fabric used being waffle pique. The full slacks are solid color, the tunic a floral printed pique. Mae Flaherty modeled the suit at a fabric show this week. Call Winifred Ware, Fashion Editor, The Constitution, for pattern numbers.

MY DAY: Flower Seed Sale For Ambulance Corps

By Eleanor Roosevelt.

SEATTLE, Wash., Monday.—This has been an anxious day. No one, no matter how well disciplined, can sit and wait while someone one loves is undergoing an operation, and not suffer pangs of anxiety for all the things which may happen, but which, thank God, so rarely do.

While I am out here to see my daughter, Anna, who is having an appendectomy, I have been thinking about things which I have neglected to tell you. One of them is a little ceremony which occurred at our house in New York City last Thursday afternoon. I received then the first collection of red, white and blue flower seeds, and hope to plant them in the garden at the big house at Hyde Park and at my cottage. This presentation launched the British-American Ambulance Corps drive to raise, by the sale of these one-dollar packages, the money to buy ambulances for use abroad. Little Joan Manning, who belongs to Troop 213 of the Girl Scouts, presented me with a very patriotic red, white and blue old-fashioned bouquet, showing what delightful flowers we can grow next summer.

There are not only flower seeds on sale, but vegetable seeds as well. These packages contain 13 different varieties of vegetable seeds. Unfortunately, we cannot have patriotic colors in vegetables, but it is just as patriotic to grow them, because they will help to feed us when we all need it.

There is a method of increasing the sale of defense stamps and bonds, which has been developed by Northwestern University. I find it is being followed in one way or another by various institutions and groups. The plan which Northwestern has started offers its alumni the possibility of helping both the government and the university at the same time. Investment of the gifts they give, in defense bonds, will be a start in the fund to finance the university's development through their century plan.

The grand lodge of the Massachusetts Order of the Sons of Italy in America have sent me their magazine. I think they should be congratulated on their purchase of 50,000 worth of defense bonds. Their final goal is much greater than this, and shows a determination on their part to have civilians at home, by their sacrifices, support the Italian-American boys who are fighting in our services everywhere in the world.

In this magazine I enjoyed particularly the photographs of some of the Massachusetts boys with the little descriptions which they had sent in of their activities. I hope that many other groups are keeping this same type of record for the future.

In Cultivating Good Posture Forget About Your Chest

By Dr. William Brady.

In a preceding talk about posture we told what to do with your head and chin. Now let us see what to do about chest and belly.

First thing the individual whose physical education has been neglected thinks of when good posture is mentioned is his chest. If he can push out his chest he imagines he is assuming good posture. Aside from that, he dismisses consideration of chest and posture as a lot of malarkey. There are millions of people just like him who still imagine chest measurement or chest expansion is a gauge of physical strength, endurance, efficiency, longevity or vice. Thanks to the thorough, systematic neglect of education below the neck in our common school system.

In cultivating good posture habit the best plan is to forget about your chest. If you know what to do about your head (try to touch the crown, or carry an imaginary basket of food balanced on your head) and your chin (keep it tucked inside an imaginary collar) your chest will take care of itself.

What to do about the belly is a different matter. In the first place be sure to fix clearly in mind that the belly is not the abdomen (a cavity containing digestive organs in the abdomen) nor the diaphragm (breathing muscle which divides the trunk into the upper body cavity or thorax and the lower body cavity or abdomen). The belly is the front wall of the abdomen.

The profile of the belly in a normal person with good posture is convex—even convexity of line from neck down to symphysis (front of pelvic bone). In a person with poor posture this outline is flat or straight or even concave.

Some old-time physical trainers assumed that a flat belly was the ideal of good posture, and that error crept into modern art as the ideal of beauty. It probably is one of the freak wasp-waist conception of beauty which prevailed in an earlier age.

Venus of Milo has a convex belly. Anyone in good physical condition can, of course, retract or draw in his belly and hold it so for a considerable time, but this is more or less at the expense of efficient breathing, for it is impossible to draw a full breath without expanding the belly, inflating it, so to speak, as though the belly were the wall of a bellows.

Weak, flabby, physically uneducated persons with poor vitality generally have more or less potbelly, which means drooping or sagging of organs or other structures in the abdomen and in the pelvis, together with more or less lordosis, which means exaggeration of the normal hollow or forward curve of the spine at the waistline. It is debatable whether faulty nutrition in childhood and youth or neglect of physical education is chiefly accountable for this common postural weakness. But there is no question that correction of the nutritional deficiency and reasonable attention to physical training in childhood and youth will combat the tendency of good posture in the majority of cases.

Try This Old Home-Mixed Cough Relief. Surprising!

Child Could Make It. No Cooking. Big Saving. You may not know it, but in your own kitchen, and in just a moment, you can easily prepare a really surprising relief for coughs due to colds. It's old-fashioned—your mother probably used it—but for real results, it can't be beaten.

First, make a syrup by stirring 2 cups granulated sugar and one cup of water a few moments, until dissolved. No cooking needed. It's no trouble at all. Then get 2 1/2 ounces of Pinex from any drugstore. This is a special component of proven ingredients, in concentrated form, well known for prompt action in throat and bronchial ailments.

Put the Pinex into a pint bottle, and add your syrup. Thus you make a full pint of really splendid cough syrup, and you get about four times as much for your money. It never spoils, and children love its pleasant taste. And for quick relief, it's a wonder. It loosens the phlegm, soothes the irritated membrane, eases the soreness, makes breathing easy, and lets you get restful sleep. Just try it, and if not pleased, your money will be refunded. (adv.)

Delay in Trial Duke of Aosta, Won by Rivers, War Prisoner, Co-Defendants Dies in Nairobi

Further Postponement Requested; Arguments Set for Today.

A team of 11 legal brains representing ex-Governor Rivers and others under indictment on state graft charges yesterday appeared in Fulton superior court to gain a postponement until March 17 of the opening of the trial originally set for yesterday.

Defense counsel had asked an even further extension on the ground they had not had sufficient time for examination of the mass of documentary evidence which resulted in the indictments, but this was opposed by Solicitor General John A. Boykin.

Judge Pomeroy will hear arguments on this further delay at 10:15 o'clock this morning.

A move by the solicitor to add the name of Dr. Hiram W. Evans to the list of eight defendants scheduled for trial was opposed heatedly by Hal Lindsay, of defense counsel, on the ground he had not received notice of such a move.

Lindsay said it would require three years to try the cases unless defense counsel were given enough time to prepare their cases.

Marion Smith, representing D. B. Blacklock, declared the trials should not begin until the grand jury had completed the state investigation.

Yesterday's hearing was a private one held in Judge Pomeroy's chambers, but today's will be in open court.

Besides Smith and Lindsay, defense attorneys present at the hearing were William Schley Howard, John Dennis, H. A. Allen, Paul Carpenter, John Echols, Sidney Smith, Bruce Woodruff, Thomas Miller and Hamilton L. Loke.

Attorney Jim Branch and Assistant Solicitor Ed H. Stephens represented the state with Solicitor General Boykin.

Tuberculosis Is Fatal to Former Viceroy of Ethiopia, 43.

NAIROBI, Kenya Colony, March 3.—(AP)—The Duke of Aosta, 43, viceroy of Ethiopia who became a British prisoner of war, died today.

The Duke, a second cousin of Italian King Vittorio Emanuele, was taken ill of tuberculosis after being placed in an officers' prison camp following his surrender in Ethiopia last May.

The Duke was a brawny, unconventional member of the Italian royal family, the only prominent person in the House of Savoy who continued to be an ardent supporter of Premier Mussolini and his Fascist regime.

The Duke's father was one of the first to support Mussolini when the Duke first began organizing the Blackshirts.

There was no question about it being a distinct honor when Aosta was made viceroy of Ethiopia. There was no talk, such as there was when Italo Balbo was "exiled" to be governor of Libya.

The Duke began his military career at 16 when he departed for the front in the first World War with the rank of corporal. After the war he turned up as foreman of a soap factory in the Belgian Congo.

Returning to the royal circles of Rome, he took the oath of senator in 1921. After his marriage to Princess Anne, of Belgium, May 11, 1927, he started anew on his military career and led the Italian forces which defeated rebellious tribesmen in Italian African colonies in 1928. Later he was made a brigadier general of the air forces.

The Fascist council seriously considered placing him on the throne of Albania in 1939, but world events were happening too fast and this did not come to pass. After he was made viceroy of Ethiopia, it was reported he was

600 Present For Hadassah Banquet Here

Rosa Jacobs Reveals How Chapters Are Aiding War.

By CELESTINE SIBLEY.

The Biblical advice to "cast your bread upon the waters" with the assurance it will come back to you multiplied many fold was never truer than in the case of the United States government and Palestine, according to Rosa Jacobs, silver-haired New York woman who founded the Atlanta chapter of Hadassah 25 years ago.

During the last war the social-minded members of Hadassah prevailed upon the United States government to send a unit of 44 nurses, doctors and engineers to the aid of members of their beleaguered race in Palestine. This war has found—largely through the help of Hadassah—a large population of military youth ready to fight for the Allies, industries turning their men and machinery toward the production of war-time needs, a well-organized agricultural program and among the finest hospital facilities and medical men in the world, Mrs. Jacobs said.

600 Attend Banquet. Mrs. Jacobs, who returned to this country from Palestine shortly after war was declared, came to Atlanta for the silver anniversary celebration of the Atlanta chapter of Hadassah. She was the principal speaker at a banquet attended by more than 600 Hadassah members and their husbands and friends at the Progressive Club last night.

Hadassah has concentrated its efforts in Palestine on the development of a well-rounded health program, beginning with pre-natal care for mothers and following the babies through to adulthood. As a result many fine hospitals have been established and Palestine physicians have made great strides in medical science, Mrs. Jacobs said.

Mrs. Jacobs feels Palestine is the logical place for the great numbers of Jews who have been uprooted by Hitler in other nations of the world. "There is room in Palestine for no one knows how many people," said Mrs. Jacobs yesterday. "The Jewish refugees may go there in large numbers and help build up an economy of the whole east."

"Palestine is looking for the statesmen of the world, when the war is over, to delve into a solution of the problem of the Jew so we may never again have that scene of an uprooted people stalking over the earth with no place to rest their feet. Palestine offers the best yet known place."

Mrs. Jacobs will talk on Palestine at an Oneg Shabbat to be held by Hadassah at 2:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon at the Standard Club. Oneg Shabbat, introduced in this country by Mrs. Jacobs, is a traditional service meaning "Delight of the Sabbath," held in Palestine at the hour when the Hebrew day of rest is giving way to the workaday. Music, cultural discussion and prayer feature the program.

A series of eight tableaux were presented at the anniversary celebration last night honoring the eight presidents of Hadassah. A big birthday cake, made by Mrs. Aaron Kahanow, bore 25 lighted candles. The cake will be sent to Lawson hospital, Mrs. Sam O. Klotz is president of the Atlanta chapter and Mrs. L. J. Levitas is chairman of the jubilee celebration.

desperately unhappy in this assignment although he personally led the Italian troops when the British started in to reclaim Haile Selassie's kingdom.

In May, 1941, the show was finished for him. The Duke walked out on the battlefield of Amba Alaji, made the symbolic gesture of placing his hand upon the dark Ethiopian earth and then saluted his British conquerors.

GENERAL BRECKENRIDGE. SUMMIT POINT, W. Va., March 3.—(AP)—Major General James Carson Breckenridge, 64, U. S. M. C. (retired), died of a heart attack yesterday afternoon at his home here. He was said to have been the first man to receive the rank of lieutenant general in the Marine Corps.

GUSTAV ANJOU. NEW YORK, March 3.—(AP)—Gustave Anjou, 78, who made 60 trips to Europe and several voyages around the world as a genealogist, died yesterday. For many years he concentrated on tracing the lineages of wealthy families and set a price of $9,000 for a pedigree.

HENRY GILS. SPRINGFIELD, Mass., March 3.—(AP)—Henry Gils, 63, foreign correspondent and inventor, died yesterday at his home. A writer for Havas, a French news service, Gils had served with the British military secret service and as an interpreter for the United States Army. He was a native of Belgium and was known also as an inventor of an electrical condenser.

GENERAL POPE-HENNESSY. LONDON, March 3.—(AP)—Major General L. H. R. Pope-Hennessy, 66, military writer, who foretold in one of his works how Germany's blitzkrieg would operate, died today. He served as military attaché in Washington from 1927 to 1930.

Margaret Jo Hogg Celebrates Birthday.

An event of the weekend was the children's party given by Mrs. J. W. Hogg at her home on Peachtree Battle avenue in honor of her small daughter, Margaret Jo, who celebrated her second birthday.

Quantities of yellow roses decorated the reception apartments of the home, and a huge cluster of multicolored balloons was suspended over the arched doorway of the dining room. The lace-covered tea table was centered with a cake embossed in yellow and white rosebuds. Yellow candles and white and yellow favors completed the color scheme. Moving pictures were made of the little guests, their mothers and nurses.

Present were Claudia Foster, Ann Coulton, Frances Shropshire, Julia Holt, Laura Hayes, Virginia Ayers, Harriet Baird, Betty Jaglowitz, Roselyn Kempton, Janet Steinbruegge, Susan Steinbruegge, Don Dellen, Ben Noble III, Erol Hays, Earl Cone III, Joe Hiles and Marvin Mitchell Jr.

Miss Nell Hardy entertains this evening at a bridge party and kitchen shower at her home on Barnett street for Miss Marie Sheffield, who will become the bride of Eldred C. Hill next Saturday at Glenn Memorial chapel.

Mrs. E. L. Hardy will assist her daughter in entertaining. Guests will include Mesdames Robert L. Sheffield, Winifred Paige and Misses Polly McCleanahan, Reba Sellers, Mary Steel, Dorothy Rose, Paralee Akin, Janet Bushfield, Rosemary Long, Ann Bass, Katherine Morrison, Marian Wright, Janelle Crawford and Adelaide Humphries.

MISS ALICE LEE PENN.

Miss Penn To Become Bride Of Mr. Garrison on April 3

Of wide interest is the announcement made today by Mrs. William Lee Penn of the engagement and approaching marriage of her only daughter, Miss Alice Lee Penn, to William Ernest Garrison, of Atlanta and Covington. The marriage will be an interesting event of April 3, taking place at the home of the bride-elect, with Dr. Vernon S. Broyles Jr., officiating.

The bride-elect's mother is the former Miss Erin Carroll, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Vanie N. Carroll, of this city. Her father

Miss Blair Weds Charles J. Everitt

Of interest to friends throughout the state is the announcement of the marriage of Miss Vivian Blair, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. E. Blair, to Charles J. Everitt, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Everitt Jr., on February 27, at 8 o'clock. The ceremony was read by Rev. Horace Smith at the home of the groom at the home of the groom's parents in the presence of close friends and members of the immediate families.

Tall palms, ferns, candelabra holding white tapers, and a pedestal basket of white gladioli formed a setting for the wedding tableau at the east end of the living room. Miss Lillian Everitt played a program of music and sang "Because."

The bride was given in marriage by her father and the groom's best man was Tom Jones. Miss Reba Blair, wearing navy crepe with matching accessories and a cluster of crimson roses, was maid of honor and her sister's only attendant.

The bride, a petite blonde, wore an ensemble of navy blue, with white trim, and accessories to match. Her flowers were purple-throated orchids.

The mothers of the bride and groom were figured marquisette dresses and shoulder clusters of talisman rosebuds. Miss Dorothy Everitt, only sister of the groom and a student at the University of Georgia, kept the bride's book.

The bride is a graduate of Girls' High school. The groom, after graduating from Tech High school, finished his education at the University of Georgia where he majored in forestry and took advanced military for which he was

Presidential Straw Ballot Is Taken by Junior League

A straw ballot was taken for the nomination of next year's president at the meeting of the Junior League held yesterday at the Piedmont Driving Club. Mrs. Colquitt Carter, chairman of the ballot committee, announced that anyone who was unable to attend the meeting could vote today from 10 until 4 o'clock at the Driving Club.

Mrs. Robert E. Dingman, head of the ways and means department of the Association of the Junior Leagues of America, spoke on the financial aspects of the league program. Mrs. Edwin McCarty, in introducing Mrs. Dingman, gave a resume of the splendid work the latter has done for the association.

Mrs. Russell Bellman, defense chairman, announced that League volunteers were active in every branch of the Red Cross and were continuing their work at the Civilian Defense Office. Mrs. Bellman requested that anyone who wanted to take instruction courses could contact Mrs. Charles Hurt.

Mrs. James Wimberly, of Augusta; Mrs. Benjamin Parker, of Washington, D. C.; and Mrs. Palmer Flagler, of Hartford, Conn., were welcomed as transfers. Mrs. James Campbell, corresponding secretary, announced the transfer of Mrs. S. R. Bridges Jr. to Seattle, Wash.

Cold Slows Crackers

FROM SANTA ANITA TO HIALEAH

MIAMI, Fla., March 3.—Only a short while back we watched Ben Jones, the Calumet trainer, work out his 47 horses on the ghost track of Santa Anita. There were Whirlaway, Sun Again, Some Chance, well liked for the $100,000 Handicap or the Kentucky Derby.

This coming Saturday was to be the day of the $100,000 test that might have helped to put Whirlaway above Seabiscuit's all-time money mark. That dream ended weeks ago. But it is still the day of the $50,000 Widener, which has no spring competition this year.

The ghost track of Santa Anita, with its 3,000,000 flowers, its orange trees, its snow-capped mountains, its 6,000,000 worth of horses, was the fondest sporting spot I ever saw.

It is all different at Hialeah.

The atmosphere around Hialeah is rife with the buzz of many voices on one topic. Who'll win the Widener? What horse is equipped with $50,000 worth of legs for Florida's big special? Challeon? Mioland? Market Wise? Alsab? Or some longer shot such as the Big Pebble-Get Off entry was a year ago.

As a result of the Widener warmup on Saturday, Market Wise is sure to be the favored entry with Attention, Mioland, Challeon and War Relic divvying most of the play that might be left. Market Wise not only has the speed and stamina needed but the even rarer gift of consistency. He will at least be the horse to beat.

Last year Mrs. Anthony Pelletier's Bay View, a 58-to-1 outsider, took over the $100,000 Santa Anita Handicap, while Eddie Moore's stable at 16-to-1 took charge of the 1-2 spots in the Widener roundup.

No wonder thousands are trying to pick some price horse for Saturday's race.

Before leaving the melancholy turf quarters of Santa Anita I was given two tips, before the Florida season approached its peak. One was that Bill Brann's Challeon had come back a long way. The other was that Charley Howard's Mioland had shown much improvement. Even before these two horses appeared at Hialeah, Californians suggested we keep an eye on both. And these tips came from smart trainers when it comes to racing form.

Most of these trainers told me not to do too much limbering in behalf of Alsab, which hadn't developed enough—which hadn't grown enough. They also gave me a list of star two-year-olds which had been three-year-olds when it came to consistency.

Even before Alsab drew his first two defeats Ben Jones grinned and said, "I'll still have two or three horses for the Derby, and we might win."

So far Challeon, Mioland and Market Wise have proved they could get around a track in winning time. They are the horses you hear about. All three have been tough campaigners, hard to beat at their best. But no one can tell you on just what certain day even a high-class thoroughbred will feel like running a lick. Or half a lick. My references here are Ben Jones, John Partridge, Sunny Jim Fitzsimmons, Earl Sande, George Odom, Eddie Arca and several others.

The most inexpensive form of advertising is the kind that brings results; you can sell or rent almost anything through low-cost Constitution Want Ads. Phone WA. 6565.

"VETERAN" AT 19—Rene Cortes is expected to be a mainstay on the Crackers' 1942 mound corps. The right-hander is only 19 years old, another cog in the champions' youth movement.

Nelson Hopes To Beat Mark Set by Hogan

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 3.—(P)—Byron Nelson, the tall Texan now affiliated with a Toledo, Ohio, club, has leveled his golfing sights on Ben Hogan's record of finishing in the money in 56 successive tournaments.

As Nelson and two score other top flight pros tuned up for the $5,000 72-hole St. Petersburg open which starts tomorrow, Fred Corcoran, P. G. A. tournament director, disclosed that Nelson already has been a money winner in 30 straight meets.

The former National Open and P. G. A. champion started his streak in the Bing Crosby tournament early in 1941. Since then he has won four events—the Greensboro, Tam O'Shanter, Miami and Oakland Opens and finished among the first 10 scorers 25 times. His lowest finish, incidentally, was in the 1941 St. Petersburg Open when he wound up in a tie for 13th place.

With Ben Hogan under the weather from a stomach ailment, Nelson has been established as one of the favorites along with Sam Snead, the defending champion, Jimmy Demaret who won in 1940, and Henry Picard whose practice rounds have been exceptional.

Picard's warm-up rounds include a three-under-par 69 for the full course and a 33 for the tough back nine of the Lakewood Club links where the tourney will be played.

Trapshoot Champ To Teach Cadets

FRENCH LICK, Ind., March 3.—(P)—Phil Miller, trapshooting champion, is turning over his talent to Uncle Sam. Miller, an instructor at the French Lick Springs Gun Club for six years, has been appointed to an Army Air Corps school to teach marksmanship.

Paul Richards Sets Pace in Florida Camp

Manager Works Over-time To Condition Self for Heavy Duty.

By JOHNNY BRADBERRY.
ST. AUGUSTINE, Fla., March 3.—One of the hardest workers in the Cracker training camp this spring is the lanky cattleman from Waxahachie, Texas, Paul Richards, who is also manager of the team and the only veteran catcher on the list.

A glance at Mr. Earl Mann's roster will give you an idea why Richards is working so hard to get in shape. In the first place, at 33, he is the oldest man on the squad. And secondly, he figures he is going to do most of the catching for his club this season.

Best looking among the youngsters is Spec Dozier, the Dawson, Ga., boy who played last year with Miami Beach, but batted only .244. However, he is only 19 years old. Richard Dill, the semipro star from Birmingham is 20. Sam Ligon, from North Carolina, is 19; and so is Bill Tracy from New Orleans. There isn't much experience in that list, so Richards figures to do most of the receiving.

Nowak Absent.
One of the features of this club is its youth. We call Ditchers Pep Rambert, Floyd Stromme, Ed Nowak and Rene Cortes "veterans," but Rambert is 24, Cortes 19, and the other two 25. The rest of the mound corps ranges from 17 to 25. Incidentally, Nowak and Earl McGowan haven't yet put in their appearance here and nobody has heard anything from them. The other two absentees from yesterday's opening drill reported today. Julian Sowell, who won 12 and lost 6 for Waycross last season, was delayed because of the flu and took it easy in the workout. The other is Milton Rosenstein, who won 20 and lost 12 for Miami Beach last year, his first in baseball. However, he told Mann he would be in the Army either on the 16th of March or the middle of April, so he isn't being counted on.

THROWING DELAYED.
The strong wind which marred the first day's workout kept up today and chilled the atmosphere so there was very little throwing. There was a lot of running to get legs in shape and the pitchers got some practice on coaching base runners and fielding bunts.

Richards believes in as much detailed instruction for his young players as possible and it has always paid dividends. The Crackers are hoping for a break in the cold weather and if the wind will die down, everything should be lovely as a bright sunshine beamed down on the workout.

There is a long fishing pier here at the beach hotel and a lot of the boys are anxious to get out there and try their luck. However, the wind would darn near blow you off there.

Golfers To Meet Tuesday Night

The City Golf Association will hold its spring meeting to discuss tournament plans for the season at the Capital City Club downtown Tuesday night at 7 o'clock. Secretary-Treasurer Charlie Black announced yesterday.

Dr. Julius Hughes is president and L. R. Huper, vice president. Representatives of member clubs will attend.

All in The Game

BY JACK TROY

'Old Army Game' It's spring, despite the deceiving blanket of snow, and baseball interest has spread to the sun-baked fields of Florida and California, in a professional sense, and to the far-flung Army camps where many former players in organized baseball are now pitching for Uncle Sammy.

Does baseball deserve to be called the national pastime? Is it an overrated sport? Or is it underrated?

Maybe you think professionals play the game just because of the money to be made out of it. If you do, it will interest you to know how the boys in camp feel about the game.

As a typical example, I'll quote from Tom Osley's letter. Tom's an Atlanta boy and a professional baseball player. He writes from Craig Field, Selma, Ala.:

"Dear Jack:
"I am now in a United States Army uniform along with thousands of other young men all over the country and have had to lay aside professional baseball for the time being. But, nevertheless, around this time of the year baseball sort of creeps into the blood, so I am at the present organizing a post baseball team under the auspices of Captain W. J. Cornwell, the post special service officer. We will have the use of the local Selma baseball park, as Selma will not have a team in the Southeastern League this year.

"I am writing you in hopes that you can find a little space in your column to publicize this, as your column is very avidly read and will help us a great deal in booking games. We would like to book as many games as possible with some of the leading teams in this section, if possible, at our home park, as we are not at liberty to travel so far from our air base.

"I shall more than appreciate it if you will do this, Jack, in behalf of Captain Cornwell and all the boys on the team. We should have a real team, as many of the boys have played quite a bit of good baseball.

"Respectfully,
"TOM OSLEY."

Actually, baseball's just as much fun at $21 a month as it is at $50,000 a year. Only difference is economics.

Another View Whitney Martin, Associated Press columnist, had a thoughtful answer for the tirade of Sir Stafford Cripps, England's new strong man, against continuance of sports in the British Isles.

Martin said, in part: "We are a nation of some 130,000,000 persons, scattered over a vast area. We have enough men for any sized Army we might conceivably need, and enough defense workers for all demands. Everybody can't be a soldier or a defense worker.

"There are millions of people who, whether soldiering or defense working or just providing moral and financial support, have some spare time on their hands. Nobody can work 24 hours a day, and if in the spare time the citizens would like to see a ball game, or a fight, or go to a movie, that shouldn't be considered unpatriotic.

"One of the London newspapers speculated on the number of man hours of work lost by spectators at a recent boxing match, and this would seem an unfair observation, as if a man worked 12 hours in a defense plant he is entitled to a little time of his own, and whether he spends it at a boxing match or at home twiddling his thumbs should make no difference.

"Anyway, the idea is that sports got themselves in a tough spot over there, and the same thing easily could happen here if those who make their living out of them start stressing their importance. Nothing is important now except winning the war. If sports can be conducted so they don't interfere with that aim, so much the better."

In Short The Golden Gloves are on with a spectacular flurry at Sports Arena. . . . The state of war has so stimulated interest in fistic combat that not even the driven snow keeps followers away. There is nothing that as closely parallels battle. As an observer has said, "There is no talk of pushing a ball across a goal—of knocking it over the fence. You simply tee off on a fellow being and attempt to destroy him as quickly as possible."

Joe Cambria has been south of the border and dug up a Mexican pitcher for Washington. . . . Now, if Bucky Harris forgets and lets him pitch against those New York Yankees, good-bye good neighbor relations.

Major William Ormerod is now stationed in Washington with the British information services in this country. . . . Other day he recalled the match he played against Bob Jones in the British amateur golf championship at Muirfield in May, 1923. It went to the 16th green, where Bob, after stymieing the major, sunk a four-foot putt for a birdie two and the match.

Sure enough. Larry MacPhail gets in the papers a lot, and it pays dividends. Playing in a park that seats only half as many as Yankee Stadium, Them Bums outdrew their Bronx World Series rivals. Brooklyn's home attendance: 1,215,772; New York's, 964,722. Can't laugh that off. Color and showmanship pay.

Purples, Smithies Meet In Title Tilt Tomorrow

By CHARLIE ROBERTS.
Tech High and Boys' High, those never-lovin' rivals of Parkway drive, will be at their feuding again tomorrow night and it will be for high stakes this time. Coach Dwight Keith's Boys' High cage team will become Big Six League champions for the second straight year in a row if they can bump Swede Phillips' Smithies in that final loop game of the season, beginning at 7:30 o'clock at Grady court.

The tilt, scheduled for last Tuesday, was postponed to allow the two teams to compete in the G. I. A. A. tournament last week in Macon where the Purples lost in the final round for the second straight year, this time to Lanier High, the host team.

Should the Tech High quint come up with a win tomorrow night it will give them a tie with the Keithmen for first place, and a playoff for the league crown will be necessary. Boys' High now has a record of eight wins and one loss in loop play, while the Blacksmiths have copped seven and dropped two.

On the other hand the Phillipses are the only Big Six team to have downed the league leaders to date. They copped the first round tilt, 20 to 16, and will have blood in their eyes this time as it may mean an eventual championship for them.

If the Purples win it will give them the record of being the only champion the Big Six league has known in its two-year existence,

Canton, Athens And Decatur Favored Fives

Greenies Picked To Meet Maroons or Bulldogs in Finals.

By CHARLIE ROBERTS.

Three powerhouse cage fives, two of them from out of town, are favored to battle it out for the N. G. I. C. basketball championship in the annual tournament beginning today with two afternoon and three night games on the West Fulton High school court.

Athens High, winner of the state Class B crown last year; Canton High, defending champions in the N. G. I. C. and victors for 13 consecutive seasons in their own district, rate little if any better a chance than Decatur High's court pounders, unbeaten in 14 outings in 1942.

Canton appears to have the best of the breaks in the pairings, which give them a first round bye and practically assures them of reaching the final round unchallenged. Athens also has a first round bye, but likely must battle Decatur in the semi-finals for the right to play Canton for the title.

A steadily improving Marietta five, and some of the others might upset the dope by bouncing one of the favored entries, but season records hold it is hardly likely this year. Canton's record is not so formidable as those of Decatur and Athens, but they played tougher teams. Athens downed Canton on the Athens court in one regular season game, if that spells anything.

Bud Tippets, of Canton; Frank Broyles, of Decatur, who has tallied 270 points this season, and Captain James Griffith, of Athens, who has loomed in far in excess of 300, are the ace performers who will be watched.

Marietta and LaGrange High will open tourney play today at 4:30. Russell and Marietta will vie at 5:30. Decatur and Marietta will meet in the opening night clash at 8 o'clock. North Fulton, and Druid Hills will play at 9 and Fulton High and Hapeville ring down the curtain at 10 o'clock. The host, West Fulton, drew a bye.

Only night games will be played Thursday, Friday and Saturday, with the finals being set for 8:30 Saturday night.

Atlantan's Team Seeded in Tourney

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., March 3.—(P)—An 87-match marathon, leading up to quarterfinals in all divisions, will open the Southern Badminton Association tournament here Friday. Director Bob Morefield announced in releasing the draw today.

Cam Mitchell, Birmingham, runner-up in 1941 competition at Chattanooga, was seeded No. 1 in men's singles followed by Taylor Caffery, New Orleans, No. 2. Mitchell and Hagood Clarke, Atlanta, are ranked second in the men's doubles.

PESKY IS PESKY.

SARASOTA, Fla., March 3.—(P)—Outfielder Lou Finney came to terms today and Catcher Frank Pytko reported he was on his way to the Boston Red Sox camp here, but Manager Joe Cronin was more than perturbed about the whereabouts of Johnny Pesky, his heir-apparent to the regular shortstop post.

There is no question about the Portland (Ore.) youngster's contract, Cronin said, because he signed weeks ago.

THOSE RECORD BREAKERS—Cornelius Warmerdam (right), California school teacher, and Greg Rice, former Notre Dame distance runner, between them have smashed more records than a jittery phonograph store salesman. Rice, who holds practically all existing marks in the two-mile and three-mile runs, recently was named the athlete of the year. Warmerdam, who has pole vaulted 15 feet, 7-1/4 inches to smash the world's record, placed second in the voting.

Brother Kay oes Brother In Golden Gloves Scrap

Brotherly love is a fine thing—but not for the Davis brothers in the prize ring. In last night's Golden Gloves bouts Thomas and Dick Davis, of Marietta, were paired. They went for each other hammer and tongs. For two rounds the 15-year-old Dick peppered his brother with a flurry of blows to the head and body. In the third round Dick tired and Tom, 16, let him have it.

Dick, a 124-pounder, was down twice in the last round before the referee stopped the bout and awarded Tom, who weighs 125, a victory by a technical knockout.

The semi-finals in the Southeastern Golden Gloves tournament are on tap tonight at Sports Arena, with the 16-bout card getting underway at 8 o'clock. Admission prices range from 40 cents to $1.10. Merlin Berthiaume, sharp-shooting Army featherweight, clouted his way to a second-round knockout over Manuel Housepain in the novice class. Berthiaume, a 125-pounder from New Orleans representing the Atlanta Quartermaster Motor Base, scored the first knock-out in the second day's bouts of the tournament. Housepain, 127, of Miami, also represent the Quartermaster Base.

Another featherweight advanced to the semi-finals in the open division when Jim Hewitt, 128, of Darlington, S. C., slugged out a three-round decision over David Meredith, 127, of Macon. Hewitt represented the Fort Benning parachute group.

Joe Raborn, 127, of Houston, representing Cochran Field, Macon, won by forfeit over Winton, 127, of New Orleans. Jack Thiney, 126, of Benton, Ky., representing Cochran Field, Macon, decided Daniel McNally, 126, Bronx, N. Y., representing Fort Benning's Tank Corps. Ernest Stokes, 128, Atlanta Boys' Club, decided Jimmie Hollis, 127, Shawnee, Ala., representing Chattahoochee Valley team.

NOVICE DIVISION.
Barnett Woodruff, 121, Columbus, won technical knockout 1:30 first round, L. J. Adair, 116, of Marietta. Thomas Davis, 125, Marietta, won by K. O. in third round over his brother Dick Davis, 124, of Marietta. Walter Lagergren, 135, Pensacola Y. M. C. A., decided Eddie Herford, 134, of Fort Benning. Harry Broadnax, 134, Atlanta Y. M. C. A., knocked out Nick Ernst, 138, of Chicago, representing Georgia Military Academy, 1:30 of third round. Wallace Monroe, 138, of Tampa, representing Fort Benning Second Armored Division, decided Robert McCormick, 137, Pittsburgh, representing Atlanta Quartermaster Motor Base. Reuben Muhlbeter, 135, Hart, Mont., representing Fort Benning Tank Corps, decided Bill Erskine, 135, of Macon. John McKay, 151, Quincy, Mass., representing Pensacola Naval Air Station, won by T. K. O. over Leon Frazier, 153, Langdale, Ala., representing Chattahoochee Valley, 1:58 of the third round.

MacPhail Called A Bush Leaguer; Games Cancelled

HAVANA, March 3.—(P)—There's never a dull moment in the spring training camp of the Brooklyn Dodgers, especially when President Larry MacPhail is about.

MacPhail, never at a loss for words, today declared he had cancelled three spring training games with the Philadelphia Phils because the club's 60-year-old rookie manager, Hans Lohr, had called him a bush leaguer.

200-Lb. Rookie Wins Acclaim Of Southworth

Houston Graduate Just as Fast as Bullet Bob, Observers Say.

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 3.—(AP)—Outside of Howard Pollett, the young left-hander from Houston who is accepted as a sure-fire regular, Matt Surkont looks like the future book's best bet to be an important addition to the Cardinals' pitching staff this year.

Surkont, who has been playing professional baseball for five years but still is too young for the draft, is rated by Manager Billy Southworth as a prospect so he compared to Bobby Feller.

He stands six feet one inch; weighs 200 pounds, and throws and bats right-handed.

Determined and confident of himself, big Matt has been the center of attention at daily drills Southworth plans to use him in the opening exhibition contest against the Yankees Friday.

Surkont, a Pawtucket, R. I., lad who will not be 20 years old until June, was signed by a Cardinal scout at the age of 15. This was during the summer of 1937 and he was sent at once to the Rochester farm to get some knowledge of baseball life as a batting practice pitcher.

The next spring found the fledgling Redbird with Cambridge, Md., of the Eastern Shore League, where he won 10 games, including a one-hitter, and put together 64 strikeouts in his final 55 innings.

Next stop was the Portsmouth, Ohio, team of the Middle Atlantic League, where he topped the circuit in strikeouts.

A fractured wrist cut short Surkont's chance at Houston in 1940, but after recovering he wound up with a great year at Decatur of the Three I League, winning 19 and losing only five.

Last year he pitched a seven-inning no-hitter for Rochester and finished with 10 victories against six defeats.

He's so fast he's still a bit wild at times. But when he gets control, predict the experts, he will be good for 20 major league victories a year.

Mercer Millie And Susanna Fail on Finds

Setter and Pointer Muff Points in Bid for National Title.

GRAND JUNCTION, Tenn., March 3.—(AP)—A pair of blue-blooded birds made their bids for the national field trials championship here today but the import of stamina-sapping mud and poor hunting conditions proved too big a load for the crack little hunters.

Hillbilly Susanna and Mercer Millie, their race postponed yesterday by snow flurries, took the field in the morning but neither could overcome the handicaps of the treacherous, 10-mile course.

Susanna, a setter carrying the title hopes of M. J. Dudley, of Greenville, S. C., turned in a strong ground heat but the black-and-white entry was far off her usual bird-finding pace. She snapped to point a half dozen times but produced only twice.

Her bramate, a pointer, finished her three-hour heat on weary legs after pointing five times and failing to produce game on three occasions. Millie is the entry of B. C. Goss, of Cleveland, Ohio.

Even less impressive was the work of the afternoon brace. The Cavalier, a nimble-footed white and orange setter, took to the timber within eight minutes after he was put down and was not seen again in judgment. His bramate, San Juan Buck, usually considered a 'strong-running' entry, tired after finding two beaves and was taken up with 25 minutes remaining. The Cavalier is owned by Raymond Hoagland, of Carversville, Ga., while Buck is the entry of S. H. Calvert, of Seattle, Wash.

The trials—the nation's oldest—opened February 23 but rain and snow caused postponement of four days' running. Only 16 of the field of 35 dogs have been sent out for their crack at the coveted title.

Dissenters Do Not Seem To Realize That the Country Is at War, Zeller Says as Nine Detroit Men Stick to Their Guns.

LAKELAND, Fla., March 3.—(AP)—The Detroit Tigers, currently engaged in their bitterest holdout battle on record, today admitted ingenuously on the part of some of the dissenters, but the club is standing firm in its take-it-or-leave-it mandate.

General Manager Jack Zeller disclosed today that one of the bargaining ball players has a personal manager, while another's correspondence is attended to by an attorney. There are nine unsigned players.

"The trouble is," declared Zeller, "that these players do not seem to realize the country is at war."

Zeller said a lighter pay roll was made necessary by the prospect of a decline in baseball revenue because of the war.

With practice sessions in the second week the Tigers have as holdouts Pitchers Bobo Newsum, Paul (Dizzy) Trout, Johnny Gorsch and Luther (Bud) Thomas, Catcher Billy Sullivan, First Baseman Rudy York, of Alto, Ga., and Outfielders Barney McCosky, Rip Radcliff and Roger Cramer.

The latest to enter the fold is Dick Wakefield, former Michigan Collegian, who agreed to terms reported to be $800 a month if he plays with Beaumont, of the Texas League, and half that figure if he goes back to Winston-Salem, of the Piedmont League, where he batted .300 last year.

The Detroit mound corps has been increased by Earl Cook, right-hander from Buffalo and Knoxville, who belatedly received permission to cross the border from his home at Stouffville, Ont. Cold weather and rain have delayed Tiger workouts this week.

HIGBIE TO PITCH. HAVANA, March 3.—(AP)—The Brooklyn Dodgers called on Kirby Higbie to start the game against a Cuban all-star team tomorrow.

Higbie, who was fined $50 a day for a seven-day delay in getting into camp, will be aided in the pitching chores by Johnny Allen and Curt Davis. The Dodgers had a lively workout today after a lay-off yesterday.

TWO YANKS FORM INFELD. ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 3.—(AP)—The New York Yankees holdout stage has reached such a point that today Manager Joe McCarthy held an infield drill—with only two players.

Balls were batted to Shortstop Phil Rizzuto, who tossed them to a first baseman. Neither Second Baseman Joe Gordon nor Third Baseman Red Rolfe has signed a contract to become eligible for the drills. Other holdouts are Outfielders Joe DiMaggio and Charley Keller, Pitcher Red Ruffing and Catcher Bill Dickey.

BROWN HURLER PRAISED. DELAND, Fla., March 3.—(AP)—Six regular pitchers and both catchers on the Browns' roster have failed to report for spring training so far. Pitchers Elden Auker and Johnny Niggeling are in camp unsigned and neither has donned a uniform.

Bob Muncie again was the only regular hurler on hand today and his zeal drew praise from Manager Luke Sewell, who said the right-hander was "the best young pitcher in the American League at the end of last season."

Muncie won 13 and lost nine.

3 GIANTS SIGN. MIAMI, March 3.—(AP)—Three New York Giant holdouts, Pitcher Bob Carpenter, Catcher Ray Blaemire and Infielder Mickey Witke, straightened things out with General Manager Bill Terry today and signed their 1942 contracts.

Shortstop Bill Jurgis is the club's only holdout. Terry also announced that Pitcher Cydell Castleman had asked for and had been granted his unconditional release.

Redlegs and Cardinals Weaker, Says Durocher

Leo Confident Dodgers Will Repeat With Two Chief Rivals Under Par.

HAVANA, March 3.—(AP)—Both the St. Louis Cardinals and the Cincinnati Reds will be somewhat weaker this coming season than the Brooklyn Dodgers will be considerably stronger, in the strictly unbiased opinion of Leo Durocher, who manages the Dodgers.

Therefore, says Leo, his club should win its second straight National League flag without a great deal of difficulty, providing only that the draft or injuries do not take the team completely apart.

Leo is so dead sure of it that in discussing Pitcher Whit Wyatt's salary holdout he says matter-of-factly that Whit should take into consideration the big bonus he will receive in the form of a World Series cut.

"There's a lot of talk about the Cardinals beating us," scoffed our positive pilot as he critically examined a crop of sun blisters on his receding forehead. "What are they going to do it with? We outscored those guys over a hundred runs last year. What's going to keep us from doing it again?"

"Will answer that one, myself—nothing. They've lost strength and we've gained it. Do you think Johnny Hopp or whoever takes Johnny Mize's place on first base for the Cards is going to knock in over 100 runs, like Mize always did? I'll make a bet he doesn't."

Another thing, the Cards have lost Don Padgett, who can bust that ball, and we have him now.

"Sure, they've got good pitching, but you can't win a pennant with nothing but pitching. We've got hitting to go with ours. That's the difference. Some of those young pitchers that burned up the league for the Cards last year probably won't be quite so terrific this time, either. A good left-hander like Howard Pollett always makes a great show at the start in the National League for some reason, but the boys catch up with him in time."

The Army and Navy in Georgia

Army personnel, as well as civilians, will come under the provisions of food rationing by the Office of Price Administration, according to instructions received by the War Department from the office of Colonel James R. Alfonte, Fourth Corps Area quartermaster.

The rationing system, the instructions state, will be administered under the regulations through a stamp book process. Books of stamps, called war ration books, will be issued to eligible personnel and stamps taken from the books will be surrendered by the holder to the merchant from whom he is buying the rationed commodity. Stamps must be returned from the books in the presence of the vendor or his representative.

Sugar will be the first critical item involved and the supply of sugar for the army will be regulated by the War Production Administration. The civilian population will be under the direction of the Office of Price Administration.

No date is mentioned in the War Department instructions received as to when the rationing will start, but it is requested a survey of the Fourth Corps Area be made immediately in order to determine the number of War Ration books to be required.

It is explained that officers, warrant officers and enlisted men who are on furlough, will be eligible to receive the War Ration books, one book to each and one book for each member of his family.

RUNDY PROMOTED TO CHIEF WARRANT OFFICER. Warrant Officer Elbridge B. Bundy, who was called back to active duty from retirement shortly after war was declared, has been promoted to chief warrant officer. He has been assigned to the Fourth Corps Area Quartermaster Motor Pool, Fort McPherson, Ga.

Prior to his retirement to civilian life a few months ago, he had served 32 years with the armed forces of the United States.

PRIVATE ELLIS PROMOTED TO TECHNICIAN. Eugene E. Ellis has been promoted to the grade of technician fourth grade. Technician Ellis is the son of Mrs. Bessie M. Ellis, of Atlanta.

MCPHERSON STREET NAMED FOR NININGER. The main thoroughfare of Fort McPherson's reception center was named Nininger yesterday in honor of Lieutenant Alexander R. (Sandy) Nininger, Georgian who was awarded, posthumously, the first Congressional Medal of this branch for bravery in the Philippines. A sign was erected under the eyes of Colonel John R. Eden, commanding officer, and Corporal Ernest W. Atkins, of Columbus, who suggested the action.

MARINE RECRUITER ENLISTS HIMSELF. Staff Sergeant Carl Naman, of the Atlanta Marine Corps recruiting station, who has sent a steady stream of recruits to Macon headquarters since war was declared, went through the enlistment procedure himself yesterday.

Sergeant Naman, who has just completed a second term of enlistment, was sworn in for another four-year period.

He was a member of the China expeditionary force in 1933-34 served in the Philippine Islands. He is qualified as an expert gunner.

Augusta Man Is Given Naval Advancement. The Navy announced yesterday a naval board had recommended 71 commanders on the retired list for temporary promotion to the rank of captain and 171 lieutenants on the retired list for temporary advancement to the rank of lieutenant commander.

Included in the advancement to lieutenant commander was James Lawrence Robertson, of Augusta, Georgia.

Georgia Stays On Bar Group's Accredited List

Resolution by Statesboro Students Released by Governor.

After announcing the American Bar Association had declined to strike the University of Georgia law school from its approved list, the Governor yesterday released a copy of a resolution signed by 14 students at the Georgia Teachers' College, Statesboro, declaring that four members of the Student Council did not speak the sentiments of the entire student body in demanding the reinstatement of ousted President Marvin S. Pittman.

The Governor said he was notified of the bar association's action by a committee from Georgia which attended the annual meeting in Chicago. This committee, the Governor said, was composed of ex-Governor John M. Slaton, chairman of the state legal examining board; E. W. Maynard, of Macon, and Graham Wright, of Rome.

The Governor said the Georgia delegation "prevented" the discrediting of the school and added he wished to commend it "for being on the job."

He described the association's action as "the right thing to be done."

In their resolution, the Statesboro students claimed members of the Student Council, who have pictured the teachers' college as headed toward a "ghost town" because of the removal of Dr. Pittman, "shot out" before the voice of a part of the student body which has formed its opinions by clean, clear, free thinking, rather than by the directed thought which gave the bustling leaders their opinions."

At the City Hall. Fire Chief C. C. Styron yesterday was confined to his home suffering from a severe attack of bronchitis.

Stafford W. Graydon, city personnel director, will observe his 36th birthday anniversary today. He said he would be on the job as usual.

To give employment and to get employment. A Want Ad in The Constitution is equally effective in both cases.

at the COURTHOUSE

A trial in Judge Virlyn Moore's court was interrupted when the next witness wanted in another division proved to be on the jury there.

The juror was A. J. Strickland, of Roswell, who was called to testify against Theodis McGresham, Negro, accused of cow-stealing, on trial before Judge Edgar E. Pomeroy.

McGresham was found guilty and sentenced to serve two years in prison.

Robert Lee Garrison, accused of being responsible for the outbreak of purse snatchings in recent weeks in the northeast section of the city, was indicted by the Fulton county grand jury on 11 counts of robbery.

The Fulton county marriage license bureau issued the second number of licenses, 378, during the 28 days of February as in the 31 days of January. The total for February, 1941, was 276.

The Fulton county grand jury indicted R. H. Speck on a charge of assault with intent to murder on Norris Walker, of 962 Michigan avenue, N. W., last February 23. Speck also was indicted for possession of a pistol.

Igor Sikorsky, Plane Designer, To Lecture Here

Igor Sikorsky, one of the world's greatest designers of airplanes, will speak in Atlanta for the first time Tuesday in the Georgia Tech auditorium as part of the student entertainment series.

In his lecture, which will be open to the public free, he will show moving pictures of his latest successful invention, the helicopter, which he recently demonstrated by flying 60 feet straight off the ground without any forward motion.

As engineering manager of the Vought-Sikorsky Aircraft Company, he has designed the world's largest patrol bomber, now in use by the Navy, and the largest amphibian ship. His company today builds the fastest deck-fighters used by our Navy. Building or designing the world's best in aircraft is nothing new to Sikorsky, though. Among his many "firsts" in aviation are the design of the first four-engine airplane in the world, the first two-engine airplane in the United States, the first trans-Atlantic airplane, the first American helicopter, the first Atlantic and Pacific clipper ships.

In aviation from its beginning,

'Bugs' Baer Says:

I know we have been promised perspiration, transfusions and toil. That's a neat blend provided it works up a sweat for the Japs, too.

Although the minister in our town says we shouldn't hate our enemies, I'm still a twenty-four guy. I hate Adolf, Benito and Togo. Three hates are twenty-four.

I'm not a brave fellow and I can raise a pompadour of goose pimples very easy. But when I see the official photographs of what's happening to Europe I start hating with the brakes off.

The cornerstone of this war is hatred and the keystone is envy, reinforced by treachery, sabotage and propaganda. The man who turns the other cheek in this war is going to lose his cud of tobacco.

he set a world's record in 1911 by flying his S-5 at a rate of 70 miles an hour with three passengers aboard. His interest in the helicopter dates back to 1909, when he first became interested in their construction.

Born in Kiev, Russia, and graduated from the Naval College at St. Petersburg, Sikorsky came to the United States in 1919.

Church News

W. M. U. of the Baptist Tabernacle will observe day of prayer for the Annie Armstrong offering for home missions at 10:30 o'clock this morning. Dr. and Mrs. Paul James will speak.

Lenten services which were to have been held at 8 o'clock tonight at St. Timothy's Episcopal church in Kirkwood, have been postponed to next Wednesday, the Rev. Robert L. Crandall announced yesterday.

AUNT HET

By ROBERT QUILLEN.

"The three things that folks are most proud of are piety and family and righteousness, and the hatefulness are the ones proud o' bein' so righteous."
